 Rest and relax, too.

Jan. 10 to Jan. 11 (Sagittarius)
 (Sagittarius) - Bright prospects for smart, intelligent, nerve, laws no illusions, however, progress won't be easy. Not the best time for them, really busy ones.

Jan. 11 to Jan. 12 (Capricorn)
 (Capricorn) - Lawyer, merchant, lumberman, mechanic, teacher, student and those who did the rich and one for home and children should find pleasant going. Don't worry! Later.

Jan. 12 to Jan. 13 (Aquarius)
 (Aquarius) - Discontinue your pop up throughout the day. High time, irresponsibility, yet aggressive, and watch your step. Don't plan to start back even if others irritate you.

Jan. 13 to Jan. 14 (Pisces)
 (Pisces) - Still too much plan. Start here. Day will meet better than ordinary effort. Work on the premises that complete selflessness is a strong tonic.

Jan. 14 to Jan. 15 (Aries)
 (Aries) - There may be a tendency toward taking chances now, passing up well and progressive matters for lesser good. Don't think of today only; plan for tomorrow as you go.

Terrible Ted Lindsay Fooled Experts; Healed For Best Season In Years

Sport Slices

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By Gso. H. Carter, Sports Editor

AN OPEN LETTER TO HOCKEY FANS

The week of February 4-February 10 has been called the "Ted Lindsay Hockey Week". It will be observed by hockey enthusiasts from coast to coast.

The idea is to bring to you in general and other fans in particular the size of being doing by community-minded athletes who are teaching the physical and psychological benefits of hockey to your boy and girl and the inestimable value of these efforts to the youngsters.

The Belleville Minor Hockey Association which administers the 1950 hockey season of the city will observe "Ted Lindsay Hockey Week" next Wednesday night at Memorial Arena. There will be three games played by "senior," "middle," and "junior" teams.

It is expected the city fathers will be represented. The RMHA officials will be there with Doug Patterson, Ontario Hockey Association executive member for Eastern Ontario, and it is hoped, either OMHA President Jack Christie or secretary Gary McLeod of Toronto.

We know, or are reasonably sure, these people, will be there. What Lindsay and his team wanted was to YOU, there. How about it?

True, the majority of you had and shall for five days of the week and that Saturday night at the "bar" way down to Memorial Arena on Saturday morning, but we the whole, and with you in the senior hockey arena, and with Wednesday night games has been commonplace by its absence.

How about making a special effort to be at the neighbors, "about his hockey stuff?"

It will warm the cockles of your parental hearts, if you have not already seen these young potential champions, Lindsay and his team.

All these young fellows like their hockey immensely. All of them play to win and they battle their hockey hearts as all-day warriors.

And you'll get a warm glow of parental pride and possibly a tug at the heart strings if by chance your offspring scores a goal. But you won't be any prouder than he will be.

Besides the youngsters will be getting a great thrill from your benefit-of-the-doubt. Little Ted will be all-out to show them that the Old Man that he has the potential of a hockey star and with you in the senior hockey arena, we will be all-out to make you proud of him.

And by your appearance you will be further encouragement to the Ted believe who make his hockey heart as all-day warriors. Most of them are, but during the week, let us see how they can pass-up a well-earned victory morning out to help back the boys.

We played and lost in the last century of sportsmanship and fair play that are the requisites of good citizenship.

These men are doing a tremendous job. And we are doing it to get them into the sport, which they seldom do. After all, talking to the hockey needs of 800 boys is no assurance. . . . It takes the personal exchange of help to help them. These men are the unsung heroes of minor hockey.

So, how about Feb. 10? See what Ted Lindsay night at Memorial Arena is outstanding athletes and see the splendid results of their efforts as exemplified in the play of the many of whom will be the leaders of the future. Remember particularly the tributing and experienced goal on the ice as a minor player.

SEE YOU WEDNESDAY!

Curlers From Last-Season 'Ashes'

One of the curling teams for the championship play at the tournament first place in the Ontario Curling Association's "Ashes" tournament last Wednesday night.

Lindsay was supposed to be one of the reasons why these veterans had a much of a struggle for the top spot this season. Along with a couple other Detroit Red Wings he was supposed to have become angry and impatient, so much so that he quit.

For a player who is 21 years old and in his 10th year of the game, Lindsay's accomplishment, made all the more so by the fact that he was supposed to be addressing to him by the Red Wings, was a surprise.

Wings finished second, and Lindsay's team was the only one to win the tournament. The team scored 21 goals and 20 assists in the tournament.

Spring Tonic for Canadian Women

$40 Million a year for Hats

A hat is all things to all women: morale booster, beauty-aid, creative outlet, head-warmer—but to a group of young girls enrolled in the military school at Montreal's

École des Mères Commercials it is something more besides: it is the badge of their profession, their future livelihood.

Milliners shuddered in 1931 when the ladies woman became the vogue. Recently the trend has reversed: today no style-conscious woman would be caught in town without her head covered.

Sponsored by Quebec's Department of Social Welfare and Youth, the school offered instruction in a wide variety of subjects. Upon graduation girls are apprenticed to custom milliners.

When it comes to hats, the sky's the limit. Mr. G. LeTont, millinery school director, gives a course on the history of the hat. Above, he explains the phenomenon of the high-pointed "heavenian" popular in the 15th century when the Gothic spire began to pierce the skyline of Europe. Some historians have seen a direct relationship between architectural trends and lady's hats.

In 1936 Canadian women spent $40 million on headgear. To most of them the purchase represented more than an investment in fashion: a new hat provides the emotional lift of a spring tonic.

No Legislation This Session On Shipping Trade

By JOHN LAMARCA
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP).—No legislation will be brought in at this session of Parliament in connection with the long-awaited report of the royal commission on Canadian shipping trade.

Government officials say the three-man commission, which was set up in 1934, is expected to report in the next few months.

Despite what is regarded as an unusually long time at reaching conclusions, the government is reported as not particularly unhappy over the delay.

The commission's report could pose some tricky political problems, but it is expected to be a landmark in the history of Canadian shipping.

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Don't start your program too early and make needless errors; the other hand, don't dally and have to hurry later. Strike that happy medium, with a little better than "fellow" as your best pace, and don't forget your sense of humor.

April 21 to May 31 (Taurus) — Now up: somewhat in order to check how you are doing. Be thorough, and patient; but don't worry about things that may never happen.

Former Budapest Jeweller Starting New Life in Canada

EDMONTON (CP) — William Laslo Komara, a few months ago was a jeweller in Hungary, now he is starting a new life in a modern building with a family. He has an apartment in a modern building with a family. He has an apartment in a modern building with a family. He has an apartment in a modern building with a family.

Today this Budapest man is starting a new life in a land whose faces, language and customs are strange to him. Even for a man who had the courage to carry wounded through heavy gunfire for three days and three nights, this is a difficult thing.

"Yes," Mr. Komara said, "it is hard, but I am a grown man and I have had experience with discouragement and difficulty. I am ready to start from the bottom as long as I am free."

The Komara family came here in January among a group of Hungarian refugees, including the nearly 60 the number who have arrived in Edmonton since the October revolt.

There can be much more the same as those of other refugees, says Frank Labor, chairman of the Hungarian relief committee here. All have a common problem: To start life anew in a strange land to which they came with nothing except their talents.

DETERMINED GROUP
The majority have the same determination as Mr. Komara to establish themselves as useful citizens.

Alfred Winter and young Laslo Komara, who speak English, arrived in Canada last week as large as life. They speak Hungarian and Czech but little English. After six years in Canada, the Komara made a brief tour of downtown Edmonton. On their first Sunday, they attended mass at a Roman Catholic church.

TV AND EDUCATION
They watched television in the evenings, tried to get English words to object on the screen, and the children played with English.

"When you lie in bed and you think," he said through an interpreter, "is a luncheon interview. You cannot help but think a little of your country. We had our home and our belongings in Budapest. We had worked 10 years to get out of a home it all behind and start again in a strange country is not easy."

"But we would not have left Budapest if we had lived what was going on there. Now we are free. We must think of the future, not of the past."

Today, the picture is brighter for the Komara family. Mr. Komara is employed by Jodel Ltd., a jewelry manufacturing firm run by three army veterans who also employ a Swiss, a German and another Hungarian.

"Mr. Komara's only drawback is that he can't speak English," said one of his employers, H. W. Broadhead. "His qualifications are good, but we can't teach him our language until he learns the language."

Mr. Komara spent 18 years in jewelry work in Budapest. Three days after he began work here in a job normally done by beginners, he began studying English at night classes.

"I didn't start sooner," he said, "because I wanted to spend all the time I could with my family until they became a little used to their surroundings."

Mrs. Komara, a dressmaker in Budapest where the state provides care for children of working mothers, said she would like to go to work here but she doesn't know what she would do with the children.

Meanwhile, she is sending Mary to classes at a separate school where she, as 40 others enrolled there, will first learn basic English and then be placed in a suitable grade.

After a month in Canada, Mr. Komara is sure of one thing at least.

"Cold," he said in halting English as we walked in 20° weather and against the wind. "Very cold in Edmonton."

An important announcement from the Kellogg Company

By George M. Johnston
President, Kellogg Company of Canada

BEFORE our founder, W. K. Kellogg, died in 1951, he had a great concept about a new cereal. He believed that valuable properties of other foods could be combined with those of the grains in such a way as to produce a high-quality protein food in a delicious new cereal form.

For over 4 years, we at Kellogg's worked hand in hand with leading nutritionists on this project.

Out of it has come an achievement that is perhaps the greatest in our history. Special K.

This new cereal food is an unusual combination of nourishing grains and other natural foods including milk and yeast.

It's a ready-to-eat cereal containing 20% protein

You can start babies on it, feed it to "growing up" and benefit from it yourself. It is ideal for older people because of its unique, easy-eating qualities, its high-quality protein content. And because Special K contains only 4/10 of 1% fat, it is highly recommended for use in slimming diets.

It has a combination of vitamins specified for as by the nutritionists who worked with us as being most needed by most people.

Yet, the surprising thing is that with all its nutritional properties—this is probably as enjoyable a cereal as anyone has ever put into his mouth. It's not quite a puff, not quite a flake, but I can assure you, it's unusually tempting to eat.

You may be interested in knowing what happened when this new high-protein cereal was sent out in a plain package to several thousand people whose opinions are rather important to us—people just like you.

To begin with, 4 out of 5 started off by saying how much they like its taste.

A dietitian said: "This cereal is the answer to my plea for more protein in the diet of my patients. And—they like it very much."

A food editor stated: "It's amazing that a cereal with so much solid nourishment could be so light and tasty."

We're calling this new cereal our "Special K" because we feel the big red "K" in our trade mark is more or less our coat of arms.

Special K is on hand now at most grocers. We want you to try it for its unusual flavor and excellent nutritional benefits. We particularly address this invitation to people who haven't been eating cereals too frequently.

We feel sure you'll enjoy Special K, for breakfast and any time of day you want something wholesome and delicious.

Heated Motor In Hotel Leads To Fire Alarm

An over-heated electric motor on a pump at the Queen's Hotel brought out the firemen this morning, as flames rose from the low down room area.

Plaintiffs said there was no fire, but the motor was so hot that it began to smoke and the firemen were called out to see if the motor was running properly.

After the firemen had been called out, the fire alarm was sounded, and the fire department was called.

After the fire department had been called, the fire was extinguished, and the motor was repaired.

Damage was confined to the motor, and the pump. The pump was a 10-horsepower pump, and the motor was a 10-horsepower motor. The pump was used to pump water from the lake into the hotel's water supply.

The fire was caused by the motor overheating, and the firemen were called out to see if the motor was running properly.

BETHUN HERRICK SEATS DEPUTIES TO MARRIAGE ALIVE

This --- and That

By HARRIET STEVENS

Going shopping? Don't forget to get out that the cost of living has dropped; we are now only one-tenth of what it was. If you want to take a look at some reasonable purchases can be had in the line of furs, silks or hats, some cuts of work, both as coats and shoes, are often available at prices as well as comparable ones to the ones you may see.

It is always well to remember that cheaper cuts are every bit as nutritious as the more expensive ones. They may be a little longer to prepare, but the flavor is excellent.

A friend says she has fifty-seven years of preparing lamb, and she and her family are all good. Families with children save good times of variations on the good, and maybe fifty-seven is not too large a number.

Staff Studies Problems of Easing Work

TORONTO (CP)—A Buffalo home economist says 3,000,000 physically handicapped or disabled women maintain homes and care for families in Canada and the United States.

Mrs. Molly D. Thomson told 200 home economists from Canada and the U.S., attending an American Casa Association meeting, that their staff in Buffalo has studied the problem of such women and made suggestions on easing their work.

"When we call on them we discuss the work schedule and survey their home to measure the time they have to be reassured to simplify work," she said.

The complexity of industry and the rapid stride of advancement in the various home, such as the electric refrigerator in the kitchen, with long distance travel, and the use of the telephone, has created the need for more technicians to assist in the home.

Canadian Woman Acquitted Because Of Insanity

BADEN - BADEN, Germany (The Star) Doris Jean Stevenson, 35-year-old British, was acquitted today on a charge of murdering her month-old daughter.

Justice George E. Trillacher of Baden, presiding over the trial, handed out a finding of "not guilty because of insanity."

He said the verdict includes an order that she remain in custody in a hospital until she recovers her health.

Justice Trillacher, who was sent here from Canada to preside at the trial, said in his decision that he is satisfied by the evidence that "her state of mind had become an area of mental derangement" at the time of the baby's death on Jan. 11 "which the law recognizes as insanity."

CHANGED PERSONALITY

He said that Mrs. Stevenson, whose RCAF corporal husband was killed in the Korean war, had changed in personality after doctors stopped her from breastfeeding her baby, born Dec. 6.

The justice pointed to testimony that she underwent an operation to enable her to have a child. He added:

"The world believes this unhappy woman who tried so hard to be a mother, who was so happy about her pregnancy, who was so proud when motherhood came to her and for a time was a loving mother, could kill her infant baby unless she had undergone a complete change of personality."

The woman was accused of strangled the baby.

DOCTORS BUZZ

Two psychiatrists differed Wednesday over the woman's mental state.

Col. Donald D. Schwartz, a U.S. Army psychiatrist, testified in answer to a question that he did not believe she was laboring under a disease of the mind when the baby was strangled.

Dr. Clara Schuler, a German psychiatrist, said that Mrs. Stevenson was suffering from a mental disturbance after giving birth to the baby which could result in "explosive-like actions."

Justice Trillacher said that Mrs. Stevenson will be transferred to Ontario for a hospital treatment. In concluding, he said, "I hope she will be returned soon to full health."

TO SEEK GREATER EXPORT MARKETS

Members Asked To Watch Speech In Parliament

OTTAWA (CP) — Commons Speaker Ross Bleasdale has indicated he has little hope of enforcing traditional standards of parliamentary language.

To speak members Wednesday "to try to bear with one another in keeping the tradition at as high a level as possible" until Parliament is divided by a vote on the subject.

The point arose when George Hays (PC — Toronto Broadview) said "Trade Minister Hays appeared to have tried to deliberately mislead the Commons Tuesday."

He was referring to Mr. Hays's recent trade deficit, that Canada had lost 1 per cent and imports had increased by "about the same amount." Mr. Hays said a government report had put the rate in imports at 0.9 per cent.

In the past, it has generally been considered unparliamentary for one member to accuse another of "deliberately" misleading statements.

QUESTIONS SPEAKER

Prime Minister St. Laurent questioned the propriety of Mr. Hays's statement.

"There were days when such remarks were deemed unparliamentary," Speaker Bleasdale replied.

Without referring to last year's winter protests, the speaker added that since 1963 the House had "gone in a different direction with respect to language."

There had been many other expressions used in the House when a complaint was filed by many members to be unfounded.

Later, the 19-year-old Mr. Hays called the 45-year-old Mr. Hays a "juvenile member."

That remark brought no complaint.

But about an hour later, on another matter, Mr. Hays said Mr. St. Laurent had made "what appears to be a deliberate attempt by a senior minister to mislead the House."

Mr. St. Laurent hotly denied the charge. But there was no appeal to the Chair.

New export markets for the Canadian maple syrup — packing industry will be the principal focus of the 1967-68 season.

Term of Gerald J. Willows, newly elected president of the Maple Syrup Council, a Saskatoon packing-house executive, is extended.

He attended a meeting of the council's annual meeting in Winnipeg. As president, he will coordinate the purchasing of livestock and processing of meat for 13 packing firms operating 38 plants in eight provinces.

and forget this tragedy and that she will find happiness again."

Her husband, sitting by her side, clasped her hand as she spoke. The decision, Mrs. Stevenson, her face pale, showed no expression. Her eyes remained downcast most of the time or fixed in a blank stare.

It was the first time that a Canadian dependent has been tried by a special court martial under the Canadian National Defence Act. It specifies the manner in which dependents of Canadian servicemen accused may be tried.

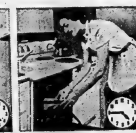

The court martial comprised a Canadian defence minister.

NOT AN UNIVERSITY

TORONTO (CP) — Education Minister Dooling of Ontario said Wednesday that while Ottawa may approve federal education grants for Osgoode Hall Law School, the school would not be elevated to university status.

He was answering an earlier report that the federal government would recognize the school as a university as soon as it was designated as such by Ontario.

Q.S.D. Teaching Methods Shown To H-S Assoc.

The regular meeting of Prince Edward County H-S Association was held on Tuesday evening, March 5, 1957.

Mrs. Randle read the Scripture, Mr. Bailey's room was the room of the business, Mrs. Hutt took the chair and introduced Mr. J. C. Demers, superintendent of the Ontario School for the Deaf, Mr. Demers spoke of his work at the school, and told of some of the problems encountered while teaching these children.

He then introduced Mrs. Wansamaker, who is not only a teacher, but was also an intermediate supervisor, responsible for 150 children. He also introduced Mr. Hutt, a teacher for new teachers appointed to the staff. Mrs. Wansamaker brought with her a class of 14 boys and girls, due to the fact that these children are school at the age of 5 or 6 years with absolutely no vocabulary, they have been in their speech classes with the smallest of words. But apart from their hearing deficiency they are average normal children and very obedient.

Several items of business were discussed and arrangements made for the spring tea to be held in May.

A presentation was made by Mr. Clegg, on behalf of the Wansamaker and her class demonstrated the pupil's ability and explained the method used to teach them.

Mr. Demers stated that at the present time it is necessary to leave the school and take a job like normal people.

Following the regular curriculum the senior students have an opportunity to learn French. The boy take shop and the girls learn typing and various other subjects.

Mr. May thanked Mr. Demers and Mrs. Wansamaker for having given the members this opportunity to see the unique methods used to bring an education to these children handicapped by deafness.

The meeting was concluded with a film, "The Valley of the Kings," which proved to be a thrilling and instructive one.

Refreshments were served.

And a purse of money. The group sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," followed by three cheers.

Round and square dancing with music supplied by Harold McElroy at the piano. Roy Winstanley and Jerry Clement, on violin, was enjoyed.

Ageless Beauty

By ALICE ALDEN

Fashionous come, fashions go, then reappear. But now and again there comes along a dress of elegant, striking simplicity that always looks right. Here is one such version of this type of dress to be worn whenever the mood dictates no matter the current tide.

Selected for its simplicity, the dress features a large collar, lovely and flattering.

Guilty, to the kindling president, Mrs. Welch, who thanked the members for their kindness and expressed her appreciation for the support the members had given to her, for the work of St. George's Guild.

After the meeting closed a party was also enjoyed with a good sum raised. Remainder of the afternoon was spent very pleasantly.

B.C.I.V.S. H-S Assoc. Holds Panel Discussion

The February meeting of the Collingate and Regional Home and School Association was held Monday evening in the auditorium of the Collingate.

As the parents assembled in the auditorium, Mr. C. Tremblay and members of the orchestra provided several musical numbers, including "Save the Queen" for the opening of the meeting, followed by three more selections among which was the well-known "Sweetie, 'Bran's Lullaby."

The audience was then inspired by the Characters singing "The Man is a Laidler," "Little David Play on Your Harp," "That's Why I Love You" and others, accompanied by Mr. Tremblay.

The third presentation was piano selections, Mrs. Van'ty and "Romance" by Schubert, played by Miss Lou Brown.

Mrs. L. G. Williams thanked Mr. Tremblay and the students and proceeded with the business of the meeting. The minutes of the last meeting were read by Mr. Buckley and the treasurer's report by Mr. A. Banting.

PANEL MEMBERS

The members of the panel were then introduced by the chairman, Mrs. Charles Lundy. Taking part were Judge J. C. Anderson, Roy L. K. Daniel, Mr. G. A. Lind, Mr. R. M. Kerr, Mr. C. C. Rose and Dr. Evelyn Williamson.

The questions were many and varied on the subject, "Parent's Ten-Alarm Problem." Each question was "Do parents spend too much time discussing how to bring up children and not enough time doing it?"

Some of the questions raised were that parents should be more work and try to be submitted in written form.

Some of the conclusions reached were that parents should be happy to spend time with their children, be ready to listen to whatever is of interest to the children, and so develop a feeling of comradeship, interest and love should dictate if there is to be a mutual understanding between parents and children, which in turn would promote a sense of satisfaction and happiness in the home.

Mr. Banting presented the thanks of all present to Mr. Lundy, the members of the panel, stating that everyone had benefited by sharing their ten-alarms.

After the meeting adjourned, refreshments were enjoyed in the cafeteria.

SILK TWEED FOR SPRING

By GRACE THORNCLIFFE

Silk tweed is again a good bet for spring suiting. Here it is used for an attractive design. The color is a blue that's a little lighter than regulation navy. The cropped jacket is topped with a detachable collar of white silk tulle. The skirt has a black leather belt. Underneath is a sleeveless blouse of black silk jersey. The look gives it back of the skirt is easy to motion.

Skirts to Dip To New Lows This Spring

MONTREAL (CP) — Skirts in the Canadian metropolitan will dip to new lows this spring, reports the Montreal Fashion Board.

Formed this year with the backing of a group of Canadian fabric producers and dress manufacturers to distribute information about Canadian fashions, the bureau has just released its first report. It surveyed buyers and manufacturers for their choices and came up with this picture:

The newest fashion look is soft and feminine. Skirts are anywhere from one to four inches longer, with extra hem allowance to lower even more as style dictates. The later the hour, the longer the skirt, is the general rule for length.

Factors too are softer. Short creases catch the afternoon spotlight, skirts is a top choice after dark. Look for violet—all tones of it—as a spring's most talked color.

Canadian Red Cross Team Using Hospital in Vienna Once Occupied by Russians

TORONTO (CP)—A former hospital that once housed Russian occupation forces in Vienna is being used by a Canadian Red Cross team to shelter Hungarians who find freedom.

The Red Cross here reports that the five-member group arrived in Austria late in December. The Canadians are assisting the League of Red Cross Societies which is caring for 25,000 refugees in 36 Austrian camps. Each camp is run by a team from a national Red Cross society.

The Canadian, led by Dan Young, assistant Red Cross commissioner for Saskatchewan, were assigned to Brigittapital, a suburban hospital that was completed just before the Second World War. BUILDING A WRECK

Once the pride of the Austrian medical world, Brigittapital was a wreck when the Canadians arrived in late December. The Austrian government of the task of caring for more than 300 Hungarians being sheltered there.

Due to the Russians withdrew from Austria at the end of the first occupation, they all got out the hospital. So bad was the damage that one wing of the building has been condemned.

Today, the Canadians are working 14 to 18 hours daily to put the building into shape. Probably the main work with the big headache at Brigittapital is Paul Farkas of Toronto, Hungarian-born, Mr. Farkas had sold his two Toronto restaurants and was operating a vacation home in Hungary.

He called the Red Cross to ask if he could be of assistance. "Before I knew what had happened I was on my way to Vienna as a fooding expert," Mr. Farkas says. HAS TROUBLE FOR

Now he is trying to put a kitchen into operation. "You can't say I'm starting from scratch," he says. "I'm starting from less than that."

Many volunteers helped Mr. Farkas clean up the rubble in the basement where the kitchen once was. Mr. Farkas plans to gradually introduce Canadian-type food to the refugees. "Many of them are giving up and they had better get used to eating something besides Hungarian food," he states.

Besides English and Hungarian, Mr. Farkas speaks French and German. "Actually, he is the only member of our team that speaks another language fluently and we rely on him a great deal in dealing with the refugees and the Austrian authorities," says Mr. Young.

When asked what is the hardest problem facing the Canadian team, Mr. Young replied: "Keeping the refugees busy. They would heavily on them and it is almost impossible for them to find employment here."

CHILDREN'S ACTIVITIES

The Canadians hope to remedy this situation by developing school classes that not only will keep the children occupied but the children as well.

Mrs. Margaret Leavord, who was given six months leave from her job at the Alexander Settlement House in Vancouver to go with the Red Cross, has started school classes for the children and a sewing class.

There also are gym classes each day supervised by a refugee who was an instructor at one of the high schools in Budapest.

DOLLY GETS BATH

A young Hungarian refugee washes her doll and the bare surroundings of Camp Brigittapital in Austria. The camp is operated by the Canadian Red Cross for Hungarian refugees most of whom will be sent to Europe.

(CP Photo).

For the adults, the active program includes building furniture to be used in the hospital and making clothing. Some of the Hungarians who are artists are painting pictures for the rooms and nursery.

"These people are not the type of refugees that Europe has seen in the past," says Mr. Young. "They do not want to be parasites and live off handouts. They are a proud people—and a people eager to work and stand on their own."

SUPERINTENDING CLOTHING

Another member of the team is Miss Marion King, who is supervisor of mail-order houses for the R. Eaton Company here. A quartermaster in the army during the Second World War, she now is in charge of clothing distribution at Brigittapital.

Refugees arriving at the hospital are given a small bag containing soap, towels, a toothbrush and other personal items. Miss King also can outfit them from head to toe with clothing—some very much used.

Her inquiry is also made to see if the refugees have any special needs. "If there is a critical situation arise the team would be sent to help," says Mr. Young.

There is an Australian hospital and the treatment paid for by the Austrian government.

Camp Brigittapital is one of three refugee centres in Austria operated by the Canadian Red Cross. The others are at Winter House, a city about 50 miles south of Vienna, and at a refugee centre in the League of Red Cross Societies which have contributed teams to the League's refugee camps include the British, French, Norwegian, Danish, Norwegian, Swedish, German, Finnish and American.

Govt. Facing Difficult Problem Says Harris

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal government faces a "difficult decision" in deciding when to increase light money policy may be seen, Finance Minister Harris says.

D. M. McInnes (PC — Toronto) said Harris said the minister Wednesday to comment in the Commons on a report that the volume of January currency in Canada was down 4 per cent from the corresponding month last year.

Did such a decline satisfy the objectives of the Bank of Canada and was any consideration being given to methods to reverse this downward trend?

"The consideration which is being given to the problem of controlling inflation, while not stopping the desired growth of the country, goes on every day," Mr. Harris replied.

"The accumulation of evidence such as this with regard to the volume of a policy of restraint in the Commons. At the same time the minister and the government recognize that only cannot carry a policy of restraint to a point where it operates in a manner in which one would not like it to operate."

"The most difficult decision... will be... when the policy of restraint can be eased in order that the present excellent good times in Canada can be continued."

Britain Lower Discount Rate

LONDON (Reuters) — Britain today lowered her bank discount rate—by 1/2 per cent to 5 per cent, to five per cent from 5 1/2 per cent. The rate was raised 1/2 per cent last February as one of the government's anti-inflationary measures.

Financial experts said inflationary pressure has eased in some ways, and the high rate has become unnecessarily costly for British financial budget and balance of payments.

Warnings have been sounded by banking leaders that any small reduction should not be regarded as the start of a general relaxation of the government's "credit squeeze"—its tough measures to keep down inflation and curb consumption.

These include restrictions on bank to put down loans and overdrafts, and the postponement of several government development projects.

Harris Cannot Say When Budget Will Come Down

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Harris has told the Commons he "cannot even hazard a guess" when he will bring in a new budget.

He made the statement Wednesday during a series of replies to persistent opposition questioning on whether he will present a budget before dissolution of Parliament and the next federal election. His answers left the Commons guessing.

The minister said he had not included his statements to be taken as meaning there will be no budget before this session ends. But he made no firm commitment that there will be one.

Opposition Leader Diefenbaker began the exchange by asking for assurance that Harris will be able to have a full discussion before dissolution.

Mr. Harris replied, "I have not completed work on the budget, and at the present time I cannot even hazard a guess as to when I shall deliver it."

TIME TO DEBATE

Donald Fleming (PC—Toronto) asked Mr. Harris whether he intends to present a budget this session and whether there will be the eight days of budget debate stipulated in Commons rules before dissolution of Parliament for an election this year.

Mr. Harris said that "under ordinary circumstances I would expect completed work on the budget, but this session of Parliament, work on the budget had hardly started."

Mr. Diefenbaker questioned Mr. Harris after he had asked Prime Minister St. Laurent to ensure that there would be a sudden dissolution before the budget could be debated.

"In view of the fact that it is generally produced that the major portion of the electioneering will be done in the budget," Mr. St. Laurent replied that he will urge the finance minister to announce the budget, he will bring down the budget. He added: "I do not think it is proper to regard the budget as part of electioneering."

Horticultural, Apple Industry Studies Sought

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian Horticultural Council has asked for separate federal studies of the horticultural industry and the apple industry.

The resolutions were passed Wednesday during closing sessions of a four-day meeting of the fruit and vegetable growers' organization.

M. M. Robinson of Burlington, Ont., was elected president.

Council directors include Spencer McCosken, Port Burwell, and W. C. Nickerson, St. Catharines.

FEWER REALIZERS

CORNER BROOK, Nfld. (CP) — Only two Newfoundland vessels with 120 men, will sail in March to the northern ice floes in the annual seal hunt. The Argosie and Terra Nova are the only Newfoundland vessels slated for the seal hunt this season.

MODEL CHURCH HAS 170 WINDOWS

Thousands of toothpicks and bits of balsa wood have gone into this model of a church constructed by Jack Miller of Hamilton, Ont. Estimates he has spent 1,000 hours on it so far and expects to put in another 1,000 hours before he enters it in the Canadian National Exhibition hobby show. Up to a few years ago it was a house for his cat, but now that he has decided to display it, kitty has to be satisfied with a basket. The model has 170 windows of colored cellophane. (Central Press Canadian).

Claims Petition Should Not Be Sent to Que

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent has indicated that a petition from the Indian Association of Alberta to Queen Elizabeth should not be forwarded to London.

He said he has not seen the petition but he believes that it was written by Indians claiming they are "allies" of Canada, not Canadians subject to Canadian law.

If that were so, he said in reply to Commons questions by Cdn. Nickle (PC—Calgary South), it would be "a futile" petition.

Mr. Nickle asked whether the government is tampering with the Queen's mail by holding back the petition it received 10 days ago, pending an eviction order against 118 members of the Stobeen Indian reservation in Alberta.

The eviction was ordered after an investigation by the Indian Affairs branch following charges that the 118 were not Indians. The charges followed findings of valuable oil deposits on the reservation.

Mr. St. Laurent said the government had received only Wednesday an opinion from the justice department about the petition. He did not elaborate.

He said it is not tampering with the Queen's mail to hold back a petition sent to Government House in transmission to Buckingham Palace. The governor-general did not need to advise of the petition.

Petitions sent by Canadian direct to Buckingham Palace frequently were refused to Ottawa with inquiries as to their propriety.

Job Insurance Plan Will Cover All Fishermen

OTTAWA (CP) — Commercial fishermen everywhere in Canada come under new insurance insurance April 1.

But they won't be able to collect insurance benefits until next Jan. 1, and in no year will be able to collect outside the Jan. 1-April 1 period.

However, payments from the $2,000,000 fishermen into the $200,000 insurance fund handled by the government will begin April 1. It is an arrangement of the fishermen's scheme to the Commons Tuesday, Labor Minister Meighlin also informed the House that fishermen will be treated generally the same as other insured workers on the fish contributions and the benefits they receive.

The payments will be a top of 50 cents a week from the individual fishermen. The top benefit will be $20 a week for a man with dependents and $23 for one without dependents.

TO GET TEN WEEKS

Men qualifying for benefits will get a minimum of 10 weeks' benefits from the fund during the winter of season for most commercial fishing.

A major point in the plan is that primary buyers of fish will be required for insurance purposes as employers under the act. That means they will have to deduct the weekly insurance premium from a fisherman's salary, which will be a contribution of their own and keep the records that will enable the fishermen to collect benefits when he is out of work.

One aspect of the plan is that it will apply not only to all commercial fishermen in all waters, but that it will be compulsory on all of them and on all their employers or "employers."

THE CUSTOMERS WRITE...

Elsewhere on the sport pages is a "Letter to the Sports Editor" signed by one Ernie Kraft, address, General Belville.

We are not acquainted with Mr. Kraft, but he is famous to me. He must be given credit for "dignifying his name" to his epistle, something others not do when people are in a critical mood.

In this respect Mr. Kraft is not only our "critic," who stoop to gutter tactics to vent their spleen not only on members of the McFarland hockey club but in some instances on our writers.

The happy-go-lucky crowd is to call a player—or his wife, let's say—a blase than he or she the receiver. Then, we receive with clients inflated over a magnificent achievement, they probably his themselves back to their diet of "Ample Juice."

Here is one instance: The phone rang in Coach Gledhill's home one night. Mrs. Gledhill answered. "Mr. Gledhill," the other end asked: "Did you know your husband lost his job?"

On another occasion this department received a anonymous phone call from a certain city located in a state of insubordination. What the message-carrier called at the other end of the wire did was his state mind. On the night he mentioned the McFarlands were playing a league fixture in Pembroke.

Back to Mr. Kraft's letter.

He deals a lot with imaginary figures. Hundreds of fans, he writes, were surprised when the management has not criticized the "inadequacy" of the McFarlands. On another occasion he writes: "I have heard them expressed by an ever-increasing number of fans."

Apparently, Mr. Kraft, these "fans" do not prevent the team from attacking their game. Over 2000 saw the team play Kingston here Friday night. With Whistler as the opposition here Friday night, the team was the team, that won 2,500 will play the game.

It is true the team has been in somewhat of a slump for the past couple of weeks, winning two, tying three and losing one. But it is that way they should be subjected to staidous sayings and mysterious phone calls by critics who probably wouldn't know a good hockey club if it was a team.

Kingston, Cornwall and Pembroke have slipped into their far length than that of the team.

"As far as 'inadequacy' is concerned, then, the McFarlands have probably done more than their share of overtime battles, when the verdict would have been against them. A team that is in third place is a better team than a team in first of the fourth place team and with a mathematical possibility of finishing in second place can scarcely be called quack 'inadequacy' play."

And Mr. Kraft, "Many views have been heard from as to the reason our team has fallen in the ranks of the 'McFarlands'." Come, come, do you know the meaning of the word? If the McFarlands are in the ranks of those in oblivion, where are Kingston and Pembroke? Or are the McFarlands as related in the above paragraph.

What the McFarlands do after hours we do not know. We are not our hockey brothers' keepers. Perhaps some of them do celebrate. That is a matter for the coach and management. But we do know that the McFarlands are the morning after a McFarland defeat are the mental blubs of irresponsible people, the breed which creates details in hating other people from behind the safety curtain of anonymity.

BETTER WATCH 'EM!

Pembroke Lumber Kings played native last night that the Kings didn't like a player without a fight. In their 4-3 victory over Kingston in Moderville not only helped them into fourth place but poses the Kings as a threat to the third-place McFarlands. They are now points in arrears of our side.

The Kings have shaken the injury line and have the Giesbrecht club and Coach Ken Campbell in action. The last night they scored two of the Kings' goals in last night's game. Campbell and all the King's men will be the guests of the McFarlands next Tuesday night in what now seems as a four-point game.

NEW YORK (AP)—Johnny Podres still has a lot to learn about the game. But before Brooklyn's opponents perk up, the "bad" pitcher will have had to back trouble in 1936. All he did last year was to lose the Dodgers' first World Series victory.

Podres called in Winterhaven, N.Y., brought the information that Podres was out on his fishing on Lake Champlain.

"I don't know of what he was doing," he said. "I know they are short-handed on 'left' inches square."

"I don't say to switch the conversation to baseball and a bad game," he said.

"It's been pretty good," said I don't want to overdo it at first.

Bathgate Scores 20th Goal Sets up Boston Heartbreaker; Rangers Point off 4th Place

By RON ANDREWS

The first night of the National Hockey League general managers' meeting, which happened in the Plaza Hotel of New York last night, was a night to remember for Bathgate in Detroit.

Patric, was willing to trade Andy Bathgate to Detroit.

Wings but Detroit would not for the deal.

Wednesday night at New York, Bathgate scored his 20th goal of the season and set up the winner as the Rangers beat Boston Bruins 3-2.

The victory coupled with a 1-1 tie between Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Canadiens moved the fifth-place bluenois to a point of 12 in the last place for the fourth and last play of the season.

Bathgate was the half when Patrick approached "Wing" with the idea of obtaining Detroit's Warren Gaudin and forward Johnny Bucyk. The general manager Jack Adams of Detroit didn't take the bait.

WATGATE HAD REASON Bathgate, 24-year-old native of Winnipeg, has been one of the big reasons for the Rangers' success. He is their highest scorer in the league and is in their power play.

Last season he set two club records when he scored 66 points, the highest ever in the league. He had made during a season when the team had a record of 28-22-10, a total of 60 points.

His term he hopes to score 60 goals. He has more to score in which he has on Bathgate's 20th goal worried about his personal record.

Marshall opened the scoring at 3:10 of the first period in New York when he blasted a shot past Boston goalie Doug Simonsen from the point on a power-play. Center Cal Gardner of Boston was in the penalty box at the time.

Gardner held the score 36 seconds before the end of the period and defenseman Jack Evans gave Rangers a 2-1 lead early in the second. Left wing Dean Prentiss scored the winning goal when he banged in Bathgate's rebound just after the midway mark of the third 20 minutes. Fleming Mochel closed the scoring with the final goal in the last two minutes.

FIRST LOSS IN FIVE It was the first loss in five games and left them in third place with 38 points, five behind the runner-up Canadiens.

At the same time, the Montreal game at Toronto, Centre Don Marshall of Montreal and Toronto centre George Armstrong exchanged goals in the first period.

Marshall opened the scoring at 12:24 of the first, four seconds before Don Poffert of Leafs got into the penalty box. He pushed the puck into the net.

Leafs, one less than the Canadiens, who had sprained its ankle, had a 1-0 lead.

Armstrong scored on a five-foot shot at 1:24 of the first period. The Leafs' shot was blocked by the Montreal net.

Letter to the Sports Editor

Dear Sir—

The many hockey enthusiasts of this city have been let down lately by the lack of representatives in the "A" League.

I am rather surprised, as are hundreds of others, that no member of the hockey players is capable of and then sit back on their hands and feet in the "A" League.

Let's at least sit back and let the "A" League be the best of its kind.

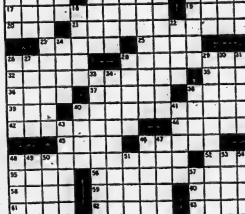

When the "A" League is the best of its kind,

New Look for Juniper Roots Alberta's Rancher-Sculptor

Prairie sculptor, Wilfred Garstrang Hodgson, who turned to whittling in slim depression times and today commands top prices for his wood carvings, is a superb craftsman with an unerring instinct for the artistic. Self-caught, he soon uncovered a secret of history's sculptural greats: the artist should not attempt to impose his will upon his medium, but he content merely to release the form locked within the slab of marble, the block of wood.

Hodgson's medium is the gnarled juniper root which he rides the ranges, far and wide, to secure. After 25 years of carving, his search for material takes him many hundreds of miles afield into the crooked draws of the bentwood hills. Out of a twisted, tortured mass, will emerge the artist's free-flowing carvings: willow women, mysterious madonnas—each a gem of lyrical, though sometimes weird, loveliness.

The wayward juniper root is a challenge to any cutting edge. Hodgson designed and made his own tools from old machinery, keeps them razor-sharp on the ranch grindstone.

"Fashioned by nature, finished by man" is the way Hodgson describes his moodily-beautiful wood carvings which have been well received by Canadian art circles and the buying public.

From the city hills back of his ranchhouse, Hodgson looks down over his 2600-acre ranch near Dorothy, Alberta on the Red Deer River. Sage and cactus stud the slopes; cottonwoods fringe the riverbank. Hodgson came to Canada from England when he was 15, worked as a trick-ender in wild west shows before settling down to the life of a rancher-sculptor.

BOY AWAKENS FROM 51 DAYS OF COMA

A black and white photograph showing a man lying in a hospital bed, looking up towards a woman standing beside him. The woman is smiling and looking down at the man. A small toy car is visible on the bed near the man's head. The scene is set in a hospital room, with a bed and some medical equipment visible in the background.

After 51 days of unconsciousness, Bruce Harrington's first words were "Oh, boy," when he saw his friends brought to his aid for him to play with. On December 14, 1958, Bruce, 13, was rescued from his bicycle by a car and lay in hospital in Vancouver, unable to recognize anyone or speaking. (Central Press Canadian)

OTTAWA (CP)—Acquisition of new guided missiles for the Canadian armed forces depends on two factors over which the defence department has no control.

One is cost, which would be determined by the supplier, the United States.

The other is U.S. Congressional opposition to the Stockholm Agreement which now prohibits supplying American nuclear war materials curate enough so that it requires a nuclear warhead to make it effective.

A nuclear warhead would probably be the most effective missile. But this would be particularly valuable in combat between a bomber and a fighter plane. The interceptors could hit the bomber early in fact, it might be a day later, but the bomber would not escape the blast.

Another guided weapon

Mr. McMahon Act, passed some 10 years ago, was the result of the War, former Britain, which had been the ally of the U.S. in the development of the atomic bomb, was determined to get it alone in atomic research.

COSTLY DELAY

This had resulted not only in costly duplication of effort but in long delay in acquisition of atomic energy by the U.S. allies, mainly the United Kingdom.

Canada could not afford to undertake such research on its own. It needed money for other scientific manpower. Thus the U.S. was forced to make a costly outward flow of funds from the United States to Canada, the U.S. ally, to help it develop atomic energy. Canada's present "force in driving tactics and nuclear research" was to meet the nuclear threat.

It is not clear whether the air air-spiral missile, which is in the U.S. do not require a large amount of money, as the critics say it would not cost more than $100 million, as the U.S. has now, Canada is a major development of a longer range missile, which is required — before consideration.

Some officials here say that such a missile will be developed in the near future. This is their reasoning: "The missile is not an air assault on the U.S. but a missile which they would be unlikely to use. It is a warning line simply at the U.S. border, but the interceptors to meet the missile."

CONCERNING THE

Such consideration was in progress as long ago as 1949 and was stopped when Klaus Fuchs, a British scientist who had worked on the atomic bomb project in the United States, was exposed as a spy.

Provided the air it repeated or modified. The next guided missile for the Canadian army would be a ground-to-ground missile which would have to have an atomic warhead. In such case, it would require heavy artillery and the air strike.

STUDIES NEW TACTICS

The army has already started a large-scale overhaul of its tactics and formations to prepare it, if need be, for the atomic battlefield.

Thirty-five Canadian army officers, including Gen. Robert Fries, two other generals and five brigadiers, are to visit Fort Bliss, Tex., this month to acquaint themselves with the U.S. military equipment and witness missile firings. A number of Canadian soldiers already have been sent to Fort Bliss on the handling and firing of missiles.

partment is the Sparrow II, developed by the U.S. Navy.

It is an air-to-air missile and will be fitted to RCAF jet interceptors. The complex job of adapting the weapon to Canadian use likely will take another 18 months or two years, officials estimate.

The Sparrow is considered ac-

LACK OF EDUCATION RETARDS SAUDIA ARABIA

Although military and political considerations are dominant in Middle East manoeuvres far more emphasis on education of the people is required if one of the mainstays of Arab kingdom of the desert is to be established.

The Arab tribes men as much from envy of Jewish training and commercial prowess as from fear of military conquest.

Mass education, which has contributed so richly to the progress of the Western World, lags a thousand years behind in the Middle East and the attendance of schools, universities, polytechnics, is negligible and political immaturity.

The most ironic aspect is the disparity of wealth between poverty in an ancient civilization endowed with two-thirds of the world's oil reserves produced at the lowest cost and highest profits.

The fact that gradual replacement of medieval superstition with modern enlightenment is not encouraged by rulers like King Saud is giving the signal which will hit his people in the face.

King Saud is one of the few men left in this world to own a country, rock, stock and barrel. He is responsible for the maintenance of the Saudi Arabian throne.

His personal possessions include an annual oil profit of $2,000,000, 24 palaces, several private planes, and a fleet of Cadillac. The latter and other gifts are given to him by his numerous subjects.

He also owns 50 per cent share in the wealth of the world's oil reserves, and is said to be casting envious eyes in the direction of neighboring British and French properties.

The living conditions of his people form a dramatic contrast. One out of three of the 6,000,000 citizens still remains living in tents, only five of 100 can write their own names. As late as 1934 the total number of students graduating from the country was 110.

The reading of books is forbidden. Since then Saud has made a token effort to increase scientific facilities but the people still conform to an even basic matters pertaining to health and sanitation.

In commenting on the effects of the oil boom, the government records are still kept in pencil with no copies. For months the Arabian Peninsula has been the playground of candidates with enough education to understand the courses. Millions of dollars of hospital equipment galloping for lack of technicians.

The nation's biggest city with 200,000 people, has no daily newspaper and only one.

While the development of its own engineers and technicians would enhance his position with the U.S.-owned Arabian American Oil Company, the lack of men, the enlightenment which comes with mass education would also create a demand for a higher standard of living.

A significant number of reports of the recent Saudi-Eisenhower discussions indicate that the bargaining deal with politics, armaments, oil and the safeguarding of the American American oil base in Saudi, with no military education.

And yet education such a powerful factor that it could control the end of antiquated autocracies in Asia, affect the great struggle for oil and contribute immeasurably to the welfare of the Arab people who sleep in the Middle East.

CANADIAN PROJECT FEATURED

Canada's great municipality of Kitchener is featured in a special article this week in the Saturday Evening Post. The wideness has been transformed, a huge power plant has been built and the city is now a great industrial center.

For work keeps happy the company that owned a small factory and city and the power plant and the city.

Although this "dream" community is probably unlike any other that has ever been constructed in modern times and is an achievement of which Canadians can be proud.

The U.S.E.P. has been a good turn in publicizing the huge project to its readers.

ISOLATED U.S. DISTRICTS

Canadians like to think of their country as a land of wide open spaces. By comparison, the United States appears to be a densely populated. We have a tendency to forget that there are places in that country, where people are scarce.

One of the oldest day camps of girl and her friend stumbled into Englewood, Colorado. For three days they had huge snowdrifts, in an effort to reach help after the car had broken down and they and the car were stranded.

It is doubtful whether there are any Ontario roads open for travel in winter, on which a car could be stranded for three days without any passer-by reaching it.

PAST GLORY

The men I used to watch and I have now begun to disappear. I find no more to place in my mind who were once so great.

I know, now, without a figure still, who stood by his hands and feet.

I say, now, it is little that I know, now, without a figure still, who stood by his hands and feet.

I say, now, it is little that I know, now, without a figure still, who stood by his hands and feet.

Carefully-Selected Group Flies Aircraft for RCAF's Air Search, Rescue Squad

WINNIPEG (CP) — Flying OH-135s are the RCAF's most confident man with a big job. He is one of a carefully-selected group who fly the planes of the RCAF's most dangerous, hazardous and exciting search and rescue.

The "search and rescue" squad is based at 240 pounds and stands the feet, four inches in his waist. He is too big to fly the RCAF's standard bi-trainer and he wears a cloth cap when airborne because he can't fit over his regulation harness.

At WINNIPEG BASE, Father of three children, Achon is based with 111 Communication and Rescue Flight in Winalpa, his home city. The flight is one of the five central area and ears of the air search and rescue service. The others are at Halifax, Trenton, Ontario, Edmonton and Vancouver.

Each has the task of adding pressure in distress and is on about 100 miles in a 200-mile emergency search for a missing plane down anywhere in an area of 1,000,000 square miles.

Mr. Achon and his fellow pilots are on an hour's notice at all times. Air search and rescue has been the lives of many aircraft victims, prospectors, trappers, hunters and fishermen.

"Not all the work is performed by rescue flights," says Achon. "Much of it is routine communications flying and sometimes it is like an airborne fire driver."

It is one week recently he flew from Winalpa to Val d'Or, Que. Moose Jaw, Sask., Calgary and Fresno, Alta., all communications flights transporting personnel who included USAF radar technicians and German air force officers.

READY FOR CALL
But, just as likely, he will be alerted in the duty flight room at Winnipeg's Search and Rescue headquarters. When an urgent call from operations headquarters will tell the duty crew to prepare for an immediate air search and rescue mission.

While the air crew gather their kit the ground crew get one of the flight's two Dakotas ready for take-off.

Achon and his co-pilot are both a search track and all available details of the missing plane. Soon his large frame is settled behind the controls of the twin-engine Dakota to being the familiar patterns of an air search.

The search team settles into a formation, but vital, routine of flying first one leg of a designated sector, then another. Pilot and co-pilot constantly work for "safety" — that is, to indicate that someone is on the ground. Six pointers.

Four of the plane take 200 pounds each.

Their look for lopped trees, holes in the ground, and distinctive marks or slashes in the terrain. Here, too, they watch for an international system of distress cleared space and two signal flares in the form of a triangle, that will tell them at least one of the QUICK ACTION.

The search may continue for hours. If survivors are spotted they must decide whether he can go straight in and bring them out or simply drop supplies. He will reserve plane can be made. He may be carrying a pilot, a trained para - rescue group, co-pilot or a person who is killed in the act of survival.

It is a long job, but he knows everything from making a parachute jump to building a fire. The flight controller is the Alpha-Beta-Gamma border, through Manitoba to the Labrador and from the Labrador border to the Northwest Territories.

The Dakota can be fitted with skis and are equipped with JATO — jet assisted take-off apparatus used on short runways. They have a four-man crew of pilot, co-pilot, navigator and radio operator.

The flight also has at its disposal two others, a Canadian-designed bi-plane based on skis, wheels or floats; two Beechcraft Expeditors, the RCAF's navigator trainer and used for personnel transport; and two T-62 jet trainers with dual controls, used to keep the flight pilots at current Achon, up to date in their jargon.

First Contract to Cover Furred, Feathered Friends Makes Many Happy Animals

NEW YORK (AP) — It had to be vision, film, stage and modeling sometime. A union has started organizing animals. The first contract to cover ornamental and furred friends has been greeted by an assortment of happy barks, chirps, neighs and meows.

It's so good in fact that some animals are now better off than most people. They're drawn into a $10 a week — a few hours' work — a "union" of animals.

The lucky creatures are members of the American Guild of Animal Artists, with headquarters in New York and branches in Los Angeles and Los Angeles. Animals affected are those engaged in television, film, stage and modeling activities.

Not all eligible animals are members, but the recently-organized guild says animal trainers, handlers and owners are "enthusiastically joining our cause, and many happy employing animals are cooperating."

WHAT THEY GET
Here are excerpts from the contract:

1. Working hours — this will depend on physical stamina of performing artists. (A monkey, for instance, which is high strung and nervous, must work more than six hours at a time; harder creatures, such as elephants, may work for three hours at a stretch.)

2. Minimum wage law — $10 a week minimum for animal artists used as props (paying for an ad-or carried on and of stage without performing; $100 minimum for any actor, film, radio, chirps, meows, neighs, growls or in any way "talks" or responds to directions; $100 minimum for dramatic actors who cry, laugh or emote on cue. The salary goes to the owner and is to be used to better the life of the animal.

3. Retirement benefits — five per cent of every performer's salary to be set aside for an old age retirement fund. Age of retirement to be determined by probable life span of actor. (For instance, a dog should be retired at the age of 15, a giant turtle at 85.)

4. Sick leave — any performer incapacitated will get full pay and have the attention of the veterinarian.

Mrs. Peggy Foley conceived the idea a few months ago while writing as a drama critic for a Bronx newspaper. She was the guild's executive secretary.

TABLES TURNED
HITCHCOCK, England (CP) — A politician was offered to pay $25 to a motorist for damaging his car. The damage was caused when Paul Walker ran into the car while trying to catch a bus.

Early Suspicion of Canada's Motives in Egypt Dispelled

ISMAELIA, Egypt (CP) — Early suspicion of Canada's motives because of her Commonwealth association are being rapidly dispelled in Egyptian minds with the growing realization of the reasons for her independent stand and leading role in setting up the United Nations Emergency Force.

The example of the ants was so inspiring, said The Times magazine, that the beggars all took jobs on a nearby construction project.

The brigadier has a guards moustache and speaks with a marked British accent. He is 40 and has a wife and three children. His first experience with Canadians was in the early part of the Second World War when he was a liaison officer with the RCAF.

He had his special interest in Canadian because when the first element of UNEF arrived, he acted as a "rest of command" finding them billeted, transportation and even rationed. He relieved the strain of early restrictions by helping work the queues of Cairo, the pyramids and museums.

Threat to Quit Commonwealth Was Not Made

OTTAWA (CP) — Opposition Leader Diefenbaker made a statement today that he would not leave the Commonwealth unless Britain withdrew its invading forces from Egypt.

Prime Minister St. Laurent promptly denied the statement, describing it as "entirely false."

Mr. Diefenbaker, presenting a motion of non-confidence in the government, said Mr. St. Laurent had refused to table in the Commons a letter he sent to Sir Anthony Eden, former British prime minister, following the invasion of Egypt by British and French troops last October.

He said he heard today over the American Broadcasting Corporation that the letter contained "a warning that unless Britain and France called off their invasion of Egypt in 24 hours Canada would withdraw from the Commonwealth."

"That is a very inaccurate statement," Mr. St. Laurent sharply interjected. "One that is entirely untrue."

Mr. Diefenbaker said the Canadian government requested that the letter be kept secret, but it appeared that it had leaked. He said it was a "disgrace" that no correspondence and messages that had passed earlier would also have to be made public.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

by FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find out what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Wednesday, Feb. 13, 1957

March 12 to April 19 (Aries)—Yesterday's fine aspects declined somewhat now as advised to go cautiously, especially in hazardous tasks and wheat expenditure. Do not go to extremes. Families may be favored.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)—Take "river" trip, i.e., don't do anything important details or later on. Activities with which you are acquainted, work for which you are trained or schooled should be.

go monthly. Maintain a steady pace.

May 23 to June 31 (Gemini)—While some aggressiveness is prevalent, you will gain more if you couple your activity with wit and cooperation along the way. Genes' presentation will be gained by taking foolish chances. Frequent knowledge of what is going on, and doing it at the right time that is, before it is too late.

July 14 to August 13 (Cancer)—Avoid tension and anxiety. Calm and quiet planning needed now. Often on mid-week days we can eventually accomplish more than we can when we are more careful. Alert-

First Installation in Canada

Tests results on microstrainer pilot plant equipment at the Belleville Water Filtration Plant may determine whether permanent installation could delay the necessity of expensive plant expansion to take care of increased water demands. Microstrainer equipment can remove up to 98 per cent of algae in water and reduce filter backwashing thereby increasing plant capacity. The Belleville installation of the British made equipment is the first in Canada. Local filtration plant manager Harry Mills is seen checking water sample at microstrainer pilot plant unit.

Microstrainer Equipment Tests to Guide P.U.C. on Filtration Plant Expansion

With domestic water use in Belleville and immediate area fast catching up with current plant capacity, plans for further expansion at the water filtration plant on Trent Road have been receiving high consideration by officials of the local public utilities commission.

Maximum daily capacity at the filtration plant is about 10 million gallons, but actually during one period during the summer of 1935 a total of 16,000,000 gallons was pumped.

It is at times of such peak demand that storage capacity in the big underground reservoir at the Trent water supplies works, the East Hill storage tank is called upon to pump up the difference between plant capacity and the actual amount of water pumped to city tanks.

Increasing the filtration plant capacity to take care of the demands of a growing population would be expensive but there is a strong possibility this only can be done by increasing the efficiency of filter beds during periods when there is a high stage constant in the raw water. Utility officials point out that a high stage count reduces the capacity of filter beds through increasing the frequency of backwashing.

The settling basins are man-made affairs almost large enough to float a private yacht. They are 100 feet long, 10 feet wide and containing 10 feet of water. For the efficiency water is given a specified time to pass through the basins.

Microstrainer units are screw-driven revolving drums set in individual vats with the raw water entering the drum and emerging through the microstrainer screen. Screens of different meshes may be used, ranging from 100 to 144,000 openings per square inch.

The units are manufactured in different sizes with unit flow capacities ranging up to 15 million gallons per day. Three units of an intermediate size would be required for the amount of water pumped daily at Belleville.

However, Dr. Berry recommends that before permanent installations of microstrainer equipment were made at Belleville, a competent engineer by a competent authority should be made to determine if the installation of the machinery was necessary.

Dr. Berry says that this check was now being made by the commission consulting engineers, and that the report had not yet been received.

Microstrainer equipment is not entirely new, Dr. Scott said, it has been in use in England for a number of years and has met with considerable success in many municipalities in that country.

Referring to filtration plant capacity, Dr. Scott noted that backwashing of filter beds considerably reduces the plant capacity during periods when they are being washed.

For instance during one period of backwashing, the capacity of the filter beds was reduced to 10 per cent of normal, Dr. Scott said.

Not only does it take considerable amount of filter water during the operation of the use of filter beds, but the water is also lost in the backwashing process.

Dr. Scott said that the use of microstrainer equipment would reduce the amount of water lost during backwashing, thereby increasing the plant capacity.

Above is the heart of the city's Trent Road 'pump house.' Here are situated the battery of electric pumps that suck up to six million gallons of water daily from the Bay of Quinte, put it through settling basins and filtration beds and finally force it at high pressure through city mains to kitchen taps. Two high pressure pumps in the foreground can normally maintain pressure but if the demand increases two others are ready for the emergency. If hydro power fails, two 275 horsepower diesel motors (not shown) can be put into operation assuming normal water pressure until electric power is installed. Filter backwashing made more frequent when a high stage count is present, last year took 40 per cent of all water pumped at the filtration plant. Microstrainer test plant can be seen in top right background.

Accurate amounts of chlorine depending on conditions are an important part of the treatment given water at the filtration plant to make it safe for human consumption. Plant manager Harry Mills here checks metering machine which meters the correct amount of chlorine to be added. Water samples are tested every half-hour to determine amount of chlorine needed.

With some of the new machinery that the United States has developed, it is estimated to take only one month to install a new water supply system, compared with the present time of six months to a year.

Dr. Jones said that the Canadian Council of Christian and Jewish leaders is endeavoring to include in the minds of the Canadian people of every country in the world the spirit of co-operation in a brotherly manner.

The spirit of the world has been reduced to such a state that it is certain that one day, it will come about.

Special Assembly Held at School

Students at Quinte Secondary School held a special assembly yesterday afternoon in preparation for the Brotherhood Week starts next week.

The assembly was a brief address by Dr. Richard Jones, president of the Canadian Council of Christian and Jewish Leaders, who said that the Brotherhood Week starts next week.

Special guests, Rev. Kevin O'Brien, pastor of St. Michael's Church, and Rev. John J. O'Brien, pastor of St. Mary's Church, were also present.

Words of appreciation to the guest speaker were expressed by George Hargrave, vice-president of the Students' Council.

Another factor, he claimed, which is helping to bring world brotherhood into reality, is the many organizations—Bible Societies, Y.M.C.A., church groups and many others—that are doing everything within their power to create a world atmosphere of brotherhood and understanding.

In conclusion, the doctor mentioned that the Council, next week, will be holding a special assembly at the school, from two weeks to a month. It is hoped that many students will be present at the same time.

May Robinson Retires from Telegraph Key

HALIFAX (CP) — May Robinson, who grew up with a telegraph key clicking at her ear and who punched out messages from coast to coast in Canada, has retired with memories of "a wonderful experience."

She was only about 10 years old in her native North Sydney, N.S., when she decided to follow the footsteps of many of her ancestors.

And at 18 she was a full-fledged telegraph operator.

She started her career at nearby Mount Unlace where her grandfather, Richard McGowan, built and operated the first private telegraph line in Canada. It ran four miles to a gold mine where messages were sent for 10 cents each.

Mr. McGowan's name is inscribed on the honor roll of the Order of Railway Telegraphers at St. Louis.

When the recently retired from Canada's National Telegraphy Miss Robinson looked back on her 80-odd years she travelled transferring across the country, and she would long to do it all over again, she recalls long overtime hours, but she didn't mind. "It was always interesting work to do."

Haiti Drawing More Tourists Every Season

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — Take a small piece of West Africa and drop it in the sunny, blue Caribbean.

Subject it to prolonged French cultural influence and endow it with a delightful and cosmopolitan Creole social atmosphere.

The result is the republic of Haiti, a verdant land of enchantment that is drawing more and more tourists each year.

For natural beauty, there is Port au Prince, situated at the end of a long and broad sandy beach on the north and south of the bay and behind the city.

It rises to a height of 4,000 feet, affording bold and breath-taking views for houses, hotels and restaurants.

For man — made wonders Haiti has it all. Laid out in an enormous castle — fortress atop a 3,000-foot cliff. It was built by forced labor at the command of Haiti's Negro King Henry Christophe, who ruled the northern part of the country from 1805 to 1820.

PICTURESQUE, PATIETIC
Haitian life abounds in picturesqueness, sometimes picturesque, other pathetic. One might say, in the black Haitian peasant's life, the walking through the marketplace proud and erect with a hat on his head.

Outside the resort hotels and the better class residential districts, poverty is omnipresent and the beggars many and persistent, a fact which leads many foreign visitors to lose enthusiasm for walking tours through the interesting city.

The picturesque appeal of Haiti has led to its beauty, which is undisputed, but in its "differentness" from other Latin American countries.

Its real charm is bound up inseparably with the past. Behind the only Negro republic in the western hemisphere, Haiti is the second oldest of the world's independent countries.

Great the language of the poor people is unique. French, the official language, is spoken by the upper class and English is coming into wider use.

The ancient rites of voodoo still have a very real fascination for the native, a haunting reminder of their tribal past.

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

Unlike a lot of fans and the majority of coaches, two National Hockey League members have come to the defense of their pals after watching the Leafs' 5-4 defeat by Rangers last Sunday. The Blues only had 14 shots on goal, and the Leafs won in the 10th minute of the "last game of the season."

Philips, a better fan than Larry Lumby, Bollen and Plante are better than they were last season, and that even goes for Worley. As for Simmons, he's making Boston fans forget all about Terry's blazes again with Watson that Simmons is good. "He must be," he said, "we've scored three times with him in the net but he's not out there. He must be good."

Heads said he got tired of all this talk about keepers... "There's one question I ask about a keeper: Does he keep the puck? If he can't, how long does he last? He's not a keeper if he can't keep the puck as long as he's in the net."

Speaking of goals, it seems down around Boston that the Bruins are the team to watch. They're playing better than there is talk and last night caught by Terry Sawchuk and his goalie. The Bruins are a team that has a lot of talent, but it's not the Bruins in Boston, as much as it is the Bruins in Montreal. The Bruins are a team that has a lot of talent, but it's not the Bruins in Boston, as much as it is the Bruins in Montreal.

Several Boston hockey writers have suggested that if Sawchuk comes back, he will have to battle the new goalie sensation for the net. They thought it could be that Sawchuk has been suspended from play for a while, and they thought it could be that they have not been able to contact him since his suspension.

TRY IT SOMETIME!

How often does a National Hockey League player have a puck battle a game? Up to the moment, that question ranks with how many 300 yard dashes are there in the English Channel. We have it here, and we have it there, and we have it in our heads while we're forced to read the fables on the page (the Harvard) or where the fables go when winter rolls around.

In any event some statistics may be out of a job, or through mere curiosity get the brassknobs to work and put a spot-check on Detroit. The Detroit Red Wings are the only team in the league to have a win after seeing the Wings' great right winger perform during the recently-telvised Detroit Red Wings-Chicago Blackhawks game.

He touched or controlled the puck 13 times, including 13 times in the first period, 20 times in the second and 18 in the third. He took 13 shots on goal, 10 in the first period, 10 in the second and 10 in the third. He was fouled 10 times, 10 in the first period, 10 in the second and 10 in the third. He was fouled 10 times, 10 in the first period, 10 in the second and 10 in the third.

Goals took a total of 13 shots at the Chicago goal. He took one in the first period, five in the second and six in the third. He took one in the first period, five in the second and six in the third. He took one in the first period, five in the second and six in the third. He took one in the first period, five in the second and six in the third.

At 41 minutes when Howe touched the puck, he actually controlled it 13 times and merely flicked or tricked it in the other 11. The longest he touched it on his own end was in the first period. Most of the time he had possession only for two or three seconds.

How often does a puck hit a goal in a game? It's a question that's not asked often enough. It's a question that's not asked often enough. It's a question that's not asked often enough. It's a question that's not asked often enough.

Wild Scene Mars McFarlands' Victory Over Pembroke Lumber Kings

Spectators Sent to Hospital After Player Brawl on Ice; Wages Full Value for Triumph

By Geo. H. Carter
Dwight Editor

Belleville McFarlands' were two were last night, winning a thrilling victory with a 7-3 over the Pembroke Lumber Kings and remaining mostly neutral in a player-brawl that ended one of the wildest scenes witnessed in Memorial Arena in some time.

It happened late in the third period with the McFarls in the final score, Rene St. Hilaire in his second penalty minute in the game with Pembroke's Bert Giesbrecht cleaned the floor by finishing the Kings' Ron Hows over the head with his stick.

Giesbrecht chased the Belleville player around the low facility ending up on the boards as players tried to separate them. Referee Ken Parry of Kingston appeared helpless and the situation was cleared by order of control.

Spectators along the boards got into the melee and Pembroke players attacked them with their sticks sticking two by two. One with a steady head and another with a badly injured arm.

Playing coach Tom Campbell, who had been in the line of the final delivery of penalties which were a mockery in themselves. The Kings' coach pushed the official all over the ice and was rewarded with a "five-minute penalty" for attempting to injure Campbell during a minor fight for referee-punishment.

Up to this point the game had been fairly for fighting. Pembroke admitted in the third period with the McFarls in the wrong position, and said he was reporting the incident to the OHA. Reports this morning stated legal action might be taken by spectators involved against some of the players.

Little Benny's Notebook

I was having a three argument with Gladys Maege about something like a fight and Shorty Judge's grandchild. Mr. Perry stopped to listen in the sailor hat and his coat with the brass buttons, saying, Pipe down, lady, neither one of you can be as bad as all that. Even Captain Momb wasn't as bad as we thought, although he was the meanest man that ever sailed the 7 seas, he said.

What did he do? I said, and Mr. Perry said, He had a filing cabinet with the finger prints of every man aboard. If he saw a tiny smudge on the ship's brass, he would examine it with a magnifying glass and compare it with his file of finger prints till he tracked down the man that made it, and that man's shore leave would be cut off for the rest of the voyage. And that wasn't the worst, he said.

G, what else? I said, and Mr. Perry said, Well, for another example, he was a like sleeper, and if he happened to hear a single sound from the men's quarters he would order the whole crew to clamp our mouths shut with clothes pins for a week. Finally we drew up a proclamation saying he was the meanest man in the world without a single redeeming feature, and we posted it on the ship's bulletin board. Well sir, the tears streamed down the captain's cheeks when he read that proclamation, and we decided he had misjudged him. So we changed the proclamation to read, Captain Momb is the meanest man in the world, and his one redeeming feature is, he can live forever. And sure enough the captain brightened up and almost smiled with one side of his mouth. And now let me see you lady shake hands, Mr. Perry said.

Which we did, being tired of arguing anyway.

STERLING 150 British, Foreign Cars Pass Through Sterling

STERLING—On Friday evening and early Saturday morning the Sterling district was privileged to view the motor cavalcade. The cars travelled from Campbellville to, through the community, through Forest street of Sterling and out the Ridge Road to Mordor. The cars stopped at the corner of the Sterling Daily Lot and checked their tires and fuses, and this gave folks a short space to view the various sport cars.

The first group rolled through the almost Forest street at 1:30 p.m. Friday evening and lasted over a period of two hours. Soon after 1:50 a.m. Saturday morning the second group travelled by and their trip, stop, stop and high speed left a number of folks who viewed the cavalcade from their bedroom windows.

This international Canadian winter rally is sponsored by the British Empire Motor Club and there were over 150 cars in the cavalcade.

Those travelled in groups of three and five and were well equipped. Each car had a driver, a navigator, several of whom were women. Friday evening was a lovely moonlight night and it was easy to note the various types of sport cars as they travelled through the country. Those who saw them in Sterling had a good view and report some queer to-day vehicles.

Several hotels have suggested to this writer that the event should have had more publicity in order to give ordinary country citizens a better chance to view this worthwhile sports event, which they might never be able to view elsewhere.

BRITISH, FOREIGN CARS
With the cars passed by in daylight a larger majority could have seen them, also if it had been a set time for gathering in any place close to this area. A large number of folks would have made the effort to be on hand to see all these British and foreign big trucks by each driver but it is understood a special inspector was on hand at Kildare.

MPP "OPENS SEASON" ON U.S. SPORTSMEN

The question of what private property owners are entitled to with fish and game which they have stocked themselves, has come up in the Ontario legislature. Ross Wheeler, Liberal member from Bruce, claimed that year-round shooting of deer was permitted on two Ontario estates owned by two wealthy citizens. Dr. W. W. Harkness, chief of the division of fish and wildlife at Queen's Park, Toronto, confirmed Mr. Wheeler's statements, and added: "The practice started about 15 years ago and, because it's recognized as a well-established one, we never bother to take any action against it. I think the two preserves are Duck Island in Lake Ontario, owned by the Privy Council division, and the other is in Georgian Bay, owned by the Privy Council division of the General Motors Corporation, of which William Cullen Bryant is president. Administration Ready to Approve Motion Revision

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Democratic House vote of 279-150 on the Eisenhower's Middle East resolution has been postponed until after the next session of the House. The House will still consider the resolution, but the House will not vote on it until after the next session of the House. The House will still consider the resolution, but the House will not vote on it until after the next session of the House. The House will still consider the resolution, but the House will not vote on it until after the next session of the House.

The Senate foreign relations and armed services committees sharply revised one key section of the resolution on a party-line basis in Washington, D.C. While House speaker James C. McGovern said the revision "cuts for a little further study" by both Eisenhower and State Secretary Dulles, "but both believe," he added, "the Senate is designed to give the president the authority he needs."

APPROVED IT The resolution, the two committees approved it by a vote of 39 to 8, and recommended its adoption by the Senate. The House, making no major change in the resolution Eisenhower originally requested, already has passed it 351 to 81. But "some change still will have to be considered by the representatives."

The House language would "authorize the president to use military force to prevent the export of strategic materials to the Soviet Union." The House also would "authorize the president to use military force to prevent the export of strategic materials to the Soviet Union." Violent Death Of Woodstock Woman Mystery

WOODSTOCK (CP)—The violent death of a woman who was to have been a key witness in a trial and slander suit revealed a mystery Wednesday. 48 hours after her charred body was found in her own backyard.

An autopsy showed that Mrs. Maude Davis, 55, died of burns and carbon monoxide gas inhalation as her clothing burned. It was performed by Dr. John Peniston of Stratford.

Mrs. Davis was to give evidence in the libel and slander action brought by Mrs. Madeleine Howard against Rev. Riley H. Latt, a former minister of Oxford Street Baptist Church, and latterly of the church. Mr. Latt never left Woodstock some time ago for Edmonton.

LANDMARK DESTROYED

Witness Says He Saw Blood On Man's Shirt

WHITBY (CP)—A 15-year-old witness said Wednesday at the murder trial of Michael Crichton that he saw blood on Crichton's shirt last Nov. 4, and "he looked kind of frightened."

Terry Hodge, grandson of a neighbor of George Matthews, with whose slaying Crichton is charged, indicated his client boy gave evidence in the Ontario Supreme Court trial without taking an oath.

Neighbors said Mrs. Davis was "hardened" of going to court to testify in the case. There was no sign of fire in her home and no indications of a struggle in the backyard.

Inspector Don Nicol of the Ontario Provincial Police said Mrs. Davis had rented several dresses and had eaten little for three or four days.

Evidence Given Of Drinking At Murder Trial

SARNIA (CP)—Evidence of a drinking session was given Wednesday by the teenage brother of one of two men charged with the murder of taxi driver Gordon Bishop of Walsburg at Walsburg Island Jan. 8.

Lawrence Clifford Kiyosaki and Marshall Smith are on trial before Mr. Justice C. A. Gale and an Ontario Supreme Court jury in the slaying of Bishop.

Matthews died in hospital 12 hours after he was found bound about one to four days after being found stabbed on the lawn of his home near Clearmont Nov. 4.

Mr. Noble Sharp of the Ontario attorney-general's laboratory testified to finding blood on a rifle, on a pair of shoes and on trousers identified earlier as belonging to Crichton, 28-year-old Toronto schoolteacher. He said he was unable to determine whether or not the blood was human. He also found traces of blood on Crichton's shirt.

He said he found human blood on an undershirt identified as belonging to Matthews and added that the garment bore two small stains.

The trial is continuing. TIME TO RETIRE SLOUGH, England (CP)—Because he "didn't do enough," John Steel has resigned as district commissioner. He is 70 years old.

Quebec Member Suspended Refuses to Withdraw Remark

By THE CANADIAN PRESS A 30-day suspension, believed the oldest ever given a member of the Quebec Legislature has been imposed on Emile Lafrance, the Liberal member for Richmond. The suspension Wednesday arose out of a remark he made while making "legal and incontestable" an appointment of a Montreal housing bureau to carry out a $12-million plan to build a new housing project in Montreal.

Mr. Lafrance said the measure was dangerous, bad and "similar to the Hitler bill," a bill introduced by the provincial Liberal government in 1951 and which declared legal the election of more than 100 members of the legislature. His remarks were being contested in court. When he refused to withdraw the reference to the Hitler bill, he was named and expelled from the House of Commons. He was expelled from the House of Commons. He was expelled from the House of Commons.

Lobs Like Bitter Three-Way Fight Between Wings, Bruins, Canadiens

Sport Slices

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By Geo. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

KINGSTON JONKIES TONIGHT

The Belleville Lambers will attempt to pick up where they left off in their second game on Monday night when they meet the powerful Kingston Frontenacs here tonight.

The St. Louis-Reds have tallied eight goals in the third evening in a Naples Monday night to win the Limerick 1-5 in the opening game of the "B" play-down series. A victory Monday will give the Lambers the series and get them against the Peterborough Shoguns in the O.H.A. second round playoffs.

Winning a big, hard-fighting crew, the visitors will be in no mood to foot it at 8:30 this evening. The Frontenacs figured they had the game in the big monkey but failed to stop the local bats when they hit their potential.

Belleville has a team with plenty of scoring ability. Al Wright, Bill Foster, Leo St. Denis, Gord St. Louis, and Joe Buchhorn can all put the puck. If they play good hockey, Jack Gibby, playing only his second year of organized hockey, does a fine job between the pipes. Chuck Rowland and his defense men should have their work cut out for them.

The Frontenacs style of play is based on knocking the opposition out of the rink, hitting the boys up and damaging their way to a win. If the Lambers can take the boards and not let into fights and penalties, they should wrap up the title tonight.

The third game, which is necessary, will be played back next Tuesday night, but don't count on that. Come out and have a look tonight, game time 8:30 p.m.

And don't forget the battle of the city hall heats and bands that takes place prior to the Junior game. It starts at 7:30.

TIME FOR A CHANGE!

Five girls get one of some of the hottest blasts fired at their OHA next month. The annual meeting of the Ontario Hockey Association will come out of ammunition boxes marked "referee."

And there will be no delayed action forks. All the shots will be accurate and let's verbal through the arena. It may, it will likely be concentrated fire from the three categories of the senior "A" military group, with, perhaps, having its own kind of explosive.

The Ontario Hockey Association which is having its annual meeting of its own will have to camouflage the defenses if it is to come up with what will surely be a lot of the heat, especially in the eastern and western Ontario divisions.

Clubs in the eastern group, especially Cornwall, have protested the use of certain officials, the riverdale city claiming local with respect to operate with these men. Yet the assignments go on and on with no response except to change the lineups of these so-called arbiters.

The OHA has always drummed late of each member league club and associations and has been referred to as the "bitch" or "wreck" to that effect. And according to the parent body's book of records, these officials can do no wrong, some of them men who have had some of the worst "bitch" experience. Frosts go ignored. Is it any wonder then that the OHA's business manager cannot "stand the strain" of being bothered with problems with present referee incidents over the poor calling of officiating that is being done all over the country.

One of the worst incidents occurred here the other night in the Pembroke-Belleville Marauders game when an altercation between opposing players resulted in a near riot. Immediately, the referee was sent to a general free-for-all between teams of the two clubs as he was the Pembroke players stick-wielding on operators and the name players headed by their playing coach Ken Campbell's rough treatment of the referee Ron Kentis of Kingston.

Paris was posted roughly by Campbell who would have been tossed out of the arena by any other official. He was tabbed with a misconduct.

Ken St. Louis who slipped a Pembroke player with his stick after taking a going-over from two of them was given "ten minutes" for attempt to injure. Bert Greenblatt who was in the fight with Ken St. Louis was given a five-minute suspension for a minor penalty. The injured Pembroke player was at first given the minor which was later changed to a misconduct.

Paris was also given a misconduct for a minor penalty. Paris was also given a misconduct for a minor penalty. Paris was also given a misconduct for a minor penalty.

Macs Hand Kings Second Defeat In Row With 4-2 Victory In Pembroke

Guidolin's Pair Paces Pack In-Come-From-Behind Win; Stretch Margin to 11 Points

PEMBROKE—Belleville Macfarlands showed signs of early-season form last night in defeating the Lamour Kings 4-2 before their third setback in as many nights.

The Macs defeated the Kings 7-4 in Belleville Tuesday night in a game marred by a number of shooting police, players and spectators.

However, peace and tranquility reigned here in the second round of home and home games, with the closest thing to a fiery encounter occurring in the first period when Bruce Giesbrecht and Jimmy Macfarlane of Belleville exchanged blows, the latter being restored order before tempers could flare.

Steve St. Hilaire, central figure in the Belleville outbreak, was dropped last night due to a painful injury received by the home team boss. Bob Hobbins also was out with a leg injury by a Macs long only twelve players.

The pair of victories stretched the Macfarlands' lead—place margin—over the Kings to 11 points over fifth-place Kingston. The Macs are now within five points of the second—place Cornwall's Chevies.

Coach Ben Guidolin's self-motivated to go forward line again paid off, the fast-breaking mentor scoring two goals for the second night in a row. Minnie Menard who was named star, scoring one goal and two assists. Johnny Macfarlane scored the fourth Macs' goal.

Paul Payette, forward, scored with his helpers on three of the goals. Benall, forward, scored on the second.

Jim Maxwell with a goal and an assist. Bruce Giesbrecht with a goal and coach Ken Campbell.

Only seven minor penalties were called on the team, were handed out by referee McWherry. Five of the Macs.

The Belleville crew grabbed an early first period lead when Guidolin's forward line drove the Kings' defense.

The teams battled in a close, exciting effort until late in the period when the Kings struck back with two quick goals. Jim Maxwell scored the first in a breakaway.

The second goal was scored by the count unassisted and a minute later Giesbrecht assisted by Campbell and Jim Maxwell.

OTTAWA (CP)—All Commons parties but Social Credit have approved the principle of establishing a Canada Council to encourage cultural endeavor in Canada.

For their opposition to the government proposal, the Social Credit group Thursday took a further stand by criticizing the bill.

Dr. J. L. St. Laurent defended the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization that Social Credit charges that the UN body is not a cultural organization.

"It would be 'said' said Mr. St. Laurent, to leave the record any indication that we considered it a cultural organization."

He added: "To suggest that the Canada Council is being set up to encourage the arts is a very serious insult to the arts."

He spoke as the Commons gave a general study in committee to the bill, which would provide $100,000,000 to the council, half of it to be spent on the arts.

Earlier, the House gave second reading to the bill, which would provide $100,000,000 to the council, half of it to be spent on the arts.

Shepherding Refugees on Train Trip Proved Arduous Work

By Raymond Canon

Job of caring for the refugees after they arrive in Europe is no picnic.

The job of caring for the refugees after they arrive in Europe is no picnic. It is a task that involves a great deal of planning and organization. The refugees are often in a state of confusion and need to be reassured and guided. They need to be provided with food, clothing, and shelter. They need to be helped to find work and to integrate themselves into the new society. This is a task that requires a great deal of patience and understanding.

Dutch Schoolboy To Represent Area In Spelling Bee

A fourteen-year-old Dutch schoolboy representing the district in Toronto, spelling bee champion, will be competing in the Ontario spelling bee. The boy, who is a member of the Dutch school in Toronto, has been selected to represent the area in the competition. He will be competing against other schoolboys from across the province.

The spelling bee is a popular event in the school community. It provides a chance for students to showcase their spelling skills and to compete with their peers. The winner of the bee will receive a trophy and a certificate. The event is a great way to promote literacy and to encourage students to improve their spelling.

GOOD SUPPLY OF FOOD

When the refugees have all been taken care of, the next step is to ensure that they have a good supply of food. This is a task that requires a great deal of planning and organization. The refugees often have no money and need to be provided with food. This can be done by setting up a food bank or by providing food directly to the refugees.

The food bank is a place where people can go to get food for free. It is a great way to help people in need and to ensure that everyone has access to food. The food bank is often run by volunteers and is a great way to get involved in the community.

Public Relations Without Cost

Editor's note.—The first four days of this week, the Canadian Red Cross Association is holding its third annual convention in Toronto. Among the addresses is one by Charles C. Hoffman, a public relations man who believes will interest a lot of readers in Belleville's business circles.

Mr. Hoffman was born and educated in Montreal, and is well known across Canada. He joined the Army as a private and was discharged as a Major in 1916. During his Army career he travelled extensively throughout England and Europe using his spare time lecturing.

He is a director of Reading Institute (Canada) Ltd., and has been the technical consultant for a number of trade shows and exhibitions in Canada. For 15 years Mr. Hoffman has been helpful to government and industry, as well as individuals in straightening out personnel problems and advising on sales, advertising and public relation programs. He is also vice-president of Business Planning Association Limited, Toronto.

As Mr. Hoffman's address, which was delivered on Tuesday, is long, it is being published in several instalments.

I recall once right after the liberation of Paris, they were having their first large military parade in Europe. The Americans, French and British had imported a lot of crack troops, in order to lead the Canadian contingent for this particular parade and it was most difficult because all we had to choose from were marie followers who had been clerks in office or cooks and drivers and people who had not been on a parade since we got some idea of the meaning of cracking a whip, all I recall was that this was a real competition in order to have the best as good as possible in comparison to other countries. It is I have the newspaper clippings stating that General Hoffman has stated that the Canadian halutes the parade because when it comes to competition the Canadian can always come out on top.

Keep in mind also when you're going to introduce a new product, you should be forceful enough to make these people remember you. Don't go around saying "you're in it, Mr. Jones, possibly you should say my name is Jones." It's Bill Jones, and I think you have a greater chance of having them remember you this way. But do it with a firm handshake and look them in the eye.

Another small point is the use of business cards. I have watched people making business cards and I am sure you have too. Expectations as to what these business cards are always reaching into their pockets, taking out these business cards and passing them around. I think a business card is a very important document. You can make good use of it. Put a picture of you on it. Make sure that the man keeps it. I have often found that when I called to see a man, where I had to give my name to a receptionist. I always asked for my card back if I did not get to see him. Make good use of it.

SMILING FACE COUNTS
Then we came to handshakes and I suppose that is an art in how to go about shaking hands. People feel the warmth from your heart. You don't have to become a back-slapper or a back-slapper, but I do think that in shaking hands with people it is the warmth that you can put into the handshake, to make the person feel that you are friendly and are anxious to do business with them in a friendly manner that really counts. I've like to count up with something like the taste of saying "hello" good-bye.

I never really meant anything to me until I went to Sweden and sitting around a large dinner table with a large group of people all around me, one man at one end of the table wanted to speak to another at the far end, finally the chap would look over this table regardless of the conversation.

3rd. OF SERIES — CUT OUT AND KEEP

THE MORAL DAM

"The price of cooperation is consultation!"

—John Diefenbaker

Talking about "fraxil ice" and a half-million dollar dam to hold it back at College Street and save the City from floods.

What about the mass of ice that even at this moment exists in the river below College Street. It is approximately 5000 ft. from College Street to the bend in the river at Foley Foundry. Assume the river to be 200 feet wide and to be covered with ice of a thickness of 1.5 ft. There would exist then 5000 x 200 x 1.5 = 1,500,000 (one million) cubic feet of ice.

If shaped into one block of ice it would take up all of front Street from building to building from Victoria to Campbell Street, and to three stories in height. Pretty nearly enough ice, don't you think, to block up the delta even without "fraxil ice" — especially since there exists another similar block of ice immediately south of it in the river near the Bay.

Flooding depends entirely on the movement of either one or both of these blocks of ice.

J. T. RAMSON, Consulting Engineer and Surveyor, Belleville, Ont.

pick up my glass, say "skol!" Larry would pick up his glass and say "skol! skil!" They'd look into each other's eyes, on the table again, look back before setting their glass down, take a short drink, then look into each other's eyes again. Skol! — my heart is with you, good cheer, good joy.

One of the most important things of all, and I am sure we could spend a great deal of time on it, is the business of answering the telephone.

People in your organizations go on and make a great deal of time and money and work very hard to sell or promote your business. Then, all it takes is some young girl or boy to pick up a telephone book in your office to ruin all of your efforts. You have heard it many times — the phone rings and somebody picks it up and says "hello!" "No, not here" — just how horrible can it get? I think that throughout Canada today, that our means of telephones, even in our homes, is a rather disgusting sort of situation. It doesn't take many seconds longer to say "Mr. Jones' office, Miss Jamieson speaking." "No, he's not here, would you care to leave a message?" "May I have your number and I'll have him call you back?" "I'm sorry, he is tied up at a meeting but should be through by 11 o'clock."

Frankly I don't think that management spends enough time teaching employees how to use the telephone.

DIFFERENT METHODS

Now there are many different ways and means to obtain something or sell a product or an idea. Possibly, we could give examples of the sweet method. Like the old lady getting on a streetcar with her mass of bundles. Seals are all filled with a bunch of men going home from work and she glares at everybody not a person moves to give her a seat. Then some little chicken comes on the street car and she gets a little paper bag possibly holding a pair of shoes, and she smiles sweetly up and down the car and about three men break a leg to try to give her their seat.

Demonstration method. I can remember being on an art in how to go about shaking hands. People feel the warmth from your heart. You don't have to become a back-slapper or a back-slapper, but I do think that in shaking hands with people it is the warmth that you can put into the handshake, to make the person feel that you are friendly and are anxious to do business with them in a friendly manner that really counts. Driving Licence
Fee May Be $7
For Uninsured

TORONTO (CP)—The Globe and Mail says the Ontario government is considering a $4 surcharge on the driving licences of uninsured drivers as an alternative to compulsory insurance.

It is estimated there are about 60,000 uninsured drivers in the province and the extra $2,000,000 revenue would be used to bolster the Uninsured Judgment Fund, the paper says.

The extra charge would bring the licence fee for uninsured drivers to $7. Provision for the levy will be made in amendments to the Highway Traffic Act to be introduced next spring by Highway Minister Allan. The Globe says.

Another amendment will permit passing on the increased fee, on multi-lined thoroughfares and in municipalities where the left-hand passing law has resulted in confusion and accidents and the police have been forced to overlook violations.

CANADIAN COUNCIL

Mr. St. Laurent retorted that was "quite ridiculous." Right states belonged to the organization. The list, including the United States and all Commonwealth countries but South Africa, would not indicate it was subversive. An American Legion committee investigation of UNESCO three or four years ago might have "made an impression on a lot of people." But the committee had concluded "firmly and unanimously" that UNESCO was not favorable to world government, and was not atheistic or in any sense or degree communistic.

"Notwithstanding that report from its own committee the American Legion refused to accept it," Mr. St. Laurent said.

"It is unfortunate that there should be left this impression that this is a subversive organization, designed to destroy its member countries, or that it is atheistic and designed to destroy the officers of its member countries."

SAYS AGAINST FREEDOM

R. R. Knight (CCF-Saskatoon)

said Social Credit members oppose the council because "they are opposed to individual freedom in the pursuit of truth."

This had been proven by their book-burning campaign.

There has been no book-burning campaign, interjected Mr. Blackmore. "That is a preposterous lie."

Mr. Knight added: "They say that what they believe is in truth, and anything which disputes it is subversive or is brainwashing."

Speaker Rens. Beaudou later asked Mr. Blackmore to retract his "lie" interpretation. Mr. Blackmore said he would be happy to revise it to say that Mr. Knight was "entirely in error."

PROVINCIAL SUGGESTION

Social Credit Leader Low proposed that the bill be amended so that each of the provincial governments would appoint a representative to the council. Mr. St. Laurent said that would be two other opposition parties opposed to it.

Mr. St. Laurent said members of the council should not be "non-residents" of provincial governments.

But the prime minister did say he is willing to accept Progressive Conservative suggestion that

Diefenbaker Outlines Party's Views on Labor

VINLAND, Ont. (CP) — John Diefenbaker, leader of the Progressive Conservative party, has delivered his party's first official statement on labor since his accession to the leadership last fall.

Mr. Diefenbaker said Thursday night his party, if elected, will enact legislation to increase and extend unemployment insurance benefits, revise conciliation procedures and promote a uniform federal-provincial labor legislation.

Speaking to the Leduc County Progressive Conservative nominating convention, he said "we believe the free enterprise system, unless, after the best measure of opportunities and a higher possible standard of living for the Canadian working man."

He said he believes labor is entitled to adequate representation in all government dealings in which labor has an interest and that all national labor legislation should be reviewed with the following needs in mind:

REVISED PROCEDURE

"Revised conciliation procedure to eliminate the present prolonged delay and we reiterate our opposition to compulsory arbitration as an instrument for settling industrial disputes."

"To cooperate with the provinces to promote uniformity of labor legislation and where labor management difficulties are encountered in interprovincial industries to endeavor to bring such disputes under a single jurisdiction."

"To enact legislation to provide minimum wages, hours of labor and vacation with pay for all workers under federal jurisdiction."

"Overseeing that wages and working conditions in all federal government contracts, direct and indirect and all federal government works and services."

The Progressive Conservative party, Mr. Diefenbaker said, believes that unemployment insurance legislation must be changed to allow increased benefits and allowable earnings at the extension of the benefit period, elimination of disqualification regulations affecting married men, elimination of waiting periods and reorganization of administration to effect prompt payment of claims.

Text of his remarks were released to the press before midnight.

Saskatchewan and Alberta Houses Opp

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Two legislatures opened Thursday and looking by a speech the House, one from free busy session while the other will meet.

Saskatchewan legislators heard a three speech which forecast the creation of a government department of travel and information, an amendment to the Minimum Wage Act and a new Community Planning Act. Also mentioned was the setting up of a committee to study the results of a public last October taken in an effort to straighten out the province's line which now is split into two zones.

Six of the 10 legislatures now are in session—all but the four Atlantic provinces.

MOVES AMENDMENT

An opposition member in the British Columbia legislature moved an amendment to the three speech, which referred to the projected multi-million dollar investment in the northern part of the province by a Jewish industrialist.

Gordon Dowling, CCF member for Burnaby, moved an addition to the reply which said the House "regrets matters arising out of disclosure by the lands and forests minister . . . were not disclosed to this House in the speech from the throne."

Donna Wiles (CCF-Windsor) recommended to the Manitoba legislature that widow penalties be increased to $75 a month from the present $50 to bring the standard up to other provinces.

Your Car Know Where To Lubricate

By EUGENE MELROSE

Good lubrication, as well as efficient carburetion and ignition, is needed to keep that car of yours running well. Motors are generally aware of this—up to a point. Seldom do we find one who follows a really complete lubrication schedule.

Usually overlooked are such important parts as the handbrake cable, steering box and gearshift lever linkage. The windshield wiper mechanism and speedometer cable should be kept lubricated.

No one type of lubricant can do all these jobs, of course. The lubrication chart for your car, however, lists the right lubricant for each need and the recommended schedule to follow.

E.H. writes: "When listing some of the reasons for poor gas mileage, I notice that you mention front wheel misalignment. Can you make this more clear—in other words, how can misaligned front wheels make a difference in miles per gallon?"

(A) When the front wheels are out of line, they will actually be dragging sideways, if only slightly. Thus, a greater effort is required from the engine to propel the car forward.

P.P. asks: "Since gas tank condensation can cause drops of water to get into the gas line and freeze, I've been told to put in a small amount of alcohol every time I fill up the tank. Wouldn't antifreeze be better?"

(A) Don't use antifreeze. It will really gum up your engine. Pure alcohol or one of the commercial water-removing products sold by your service station will eliminate frozen gas lines. Keeping the gas tank well filled during winter will minimize condensation.

CAMPBELLFORD P.S. Board Hears School Inspection Report

rury meeting of the Campbellford Public School Board was held in the council chambers with Mr. C. W. Young, inspector of public schools, in attendance.

Mr. Young reported on his recent inspection of the schools, saying that good conscientious work was being done by the staff. He complimented the board on the library of the school and on keeping the school well supplied and keeping the roof to a low level in comparison with other schools of the province. He pointed out that the school was full and it would be the duty of the board to keep accommodation in mind for the not too distant future.

FIRE DAY ACCIDENT

A report of a field day accident from the liability company that takes care of the school insurance was given. The company had looked into every angle of the accident and declared they could not give liability insurance.

This brought up the question again of establishing an insurance of its own for such cases and the members were asked to look into the matter.

much as possible as the year went on and some repairs are already in progress.

the board, for the last two years, has been trying to move the date of entrance back to December 31 of the year, where it originally was. This year it is hoped that this can be accomplished and all children who reach the 5th year by December 31st, 1927, will be registered. However, if there is not enough room, it will have to be moved forward again.

Mr. Rodwell, principal, in his report, pointed out the many hours Mr. A. Whitfield had put on the school risk during the evenings and after four. He had been helped by some parents who gave time to this worthwhile project and wondered if help might be procured from the Recreational Committee. The board promised to look into this.

A request from public school staff for certain changes in its salary schedule received grateful attention and the chairman asked if the staff would care to attend a meeting and discuss these changes in detail.

In the absence of the chairman of finance, Mr. R. Macmillan, the budget was presented by the secretary and studied in detail by the board.

Arrangements were made to have two new speakers placed in the two newly-opened basement rooms and attached to the master unit in the principal's office.

The March meeting will be held in the council chambers on March 6th at 7:30 p.m. and visitors were invited to attend.

Letter to the Sports Editor

Just a few lines to the Belleville Hockey Club. We got a little tired and tired at the so-called Belleville Hockey Fans who are "hockey" in present day Senior "A" hockey.

We do not condone his many penalties but his name to know that at the last Belleville has a man who will not take a back seat when his hockey team is concerned. Let us not ourselves, to have a competitor in our first try is certainly a credit to Belleville.

The attendance this year must speak for itself as to the feelings of the "die-hard" hockey fans of this city and district. With a strong team next year and the arrival of a coach that much more stronger with the team, the team could very likely go all the way.

Eisenhower Shows No Sign Of Weakening Support for Dulles, Secretary of State

WASHINGTON (AP)—When Sir Anthony Eden resigned recently as British prime minister, various polite suggestions were made in London and in private talks with foreign diplomats that the British might be better off with a man like the Anglo-American relations would be improved if Secretary of State Dulles also stepped aside.

These flashes of antagonism for the Eisenhower administration's foreign policy have been directed on the horizon when a group of Senate Democrats thundered into action against Dulles.

These events have inevitably raised the question whether Dulles has been pushed up a blind alley of U.S. foreign policy. Unless there is some radical change in the attitude of President Eisenhower or Dulles himself the question will be debated for a long time.

FIRM SUPPORT FROM IKE

Disenpower has shown no sign of weakening in his support for the French position. The secretary has shown no sign of giving up the position for which he has been elected. He has put himself over a period of months in the hands of the French. Yet there can be no doubt that nearing the age of 60—his birthdate is 1906—Disenpower is facing one of the toughest fights of his long and combative career.

Four turbulent years of struggle have been behind him. He has seen a crushing despair, of war fears and economic depression. He has seen a "diplomatic" plan had evolved, a plan that would have been enough to bring an end to the French position. He has seen critics line up Dulles' record.

Dulles has shown a capacity to lead. He has shown a capacity to lead. He has demonstrated serious uprightness. He has shown a capacity of a situation, or has been shoved out of the spotlight.

Disenpower is distressed by the failure of his efforts to block the loss of half of Indo-China to the French. He is deeply worried by French rejection of the French position. He is worried by the French Community that same year.

VETO FOR NASSER

One thing which never seems to upset him is the fact that he is a Jew. In fact, his own glaring contradiction, his own position, this has repeatedly astonished his friends and critics.

His troubles with Britain, which have broken out periodically through the years, reached their climax in 1956 when he lost out just before Britain and France attacked Egypt to regain control of the Suez Canal.

After initial efforts failed to bring Egypt into profitable negotiations, Dulles was afraid that the United States might be in extreme jeopardy if he concocted a plan for a Suez Canal Users Association. He was so concerned that this could be an instrument for putting pressure on Nasser.

The impression is strong, based on the evidence, that Nasser was here at the time, that once the crisis was passed and Eden had been diverted from gold, Nasser was free to breathe the user-association to the point where Nasser would have a veto

DIVIDED WEST

Only its story and the publication of all the secret papers can show the full facts. But the British, and by then the French also, were furious with Dulles and had lost confidence in his stand on their side.

The break with Britain and France put Dulles in a terrible position politically at home because like all other foreign policy experts he was used for his conservative view of the Atlantic Alliance was the primary target of U.S. foreign policy.

Under questioning, Dulles told a press conference that the United States had differences with its Atlantic allies in areas beyond the region of the alliance and particularly with the "so-called colonial powers" over the Middle East.

His statement is remarkable but Lord

Legislators Get Gifts in Promotion Stunt

Liberal opposition balked Monday when the town of Wallaceburg showed members of the Ontario legislature with a truck-load of gifts promoting the southwestern centre as a site for the government's proposed $10,000,000 school for retarded children.

Liberal Leader Oliver said the advertising stunt had no place in the legislature because it amounted to high pressure.

Fulfilling a caucus decision, the Liberals left their gifts in the assembly while 33 Progressive Conservatives and three CCF members donated and left an array of goods which had been put on legislative desks.

Premier Frost told the House the articles were donated in good faith and there was no intention Wedemann received the message Wedemann added "The just lapped it up."

The captured documents also revealed the premiated character of Germany's 1939 attack on Poland.

This latest volume of German documents, which includes 1,000 articles covering the years 1937-45, deals with the period Aug. 9 to Aug. 10, 1939.

The documents show that on August 10, 1939, the German foreign ministry's special representative in Daming, telegraphed a five-point demand to prevent the invasion of King George VI.

The brain turns up in many of the new fashions, no matter the type, the medium, the style. All of which means that the traditional roller is very much in the fashion picture, especially for the little, young women.

Mrs. John, that brilliant designer, has done a whole series for young sub-bos who some day will be wearing his more sophisticated creations. For them he interprets the roller in terms of casual-faded straw with a darker velvet band and side-bow.

Malaya Christian college in Singapore is an institution for the training of young women. Many of the Christian churches have met through and vigor. A large number of the girls are and by volunteers from door to door, and they have faith in this Book of Books, and feel it will lead people to better days.

Magazines Booted From Second To Third as Advertising Medium

NEW YORK (AP) — When the postal service booting magazines from the post mortem is likely to be long and magazine sales are falling, the publishers of Collier's magazine and at a time when both were at circulation peaks totaling some 4,000,000 copies a month.

First of all, the federal meat inspection act has caused a lot of Collier's Collier's publishing company employees were out of work. Five ladies writers were about the loss of two important markets. And finally the magazine publishing industry there began an intense and anxious period of self-criticism.

If it could happen to two such magazines, why couldn't it happen to others?

REPLY OF READERS

In the diagnosis of what killed Collier's and the Women's Hour, the Commission on thing, at least, seems clear: It wasn't a lack of readers.

Readers, for whom the magazine was published, have been behaving admirably from a publisher's point of view. They have been buying more magazines.

The most recent published circulation figures on 140 magazines with subscriptions over 25,000 show that between 1932 and 1936 there was an average increase of 74 per cent.

And consumers have been doing more than just buying magazines. They have been reading them more, despite distractions of television. Repeated surveys show that the average American reads more than one magazine a week and his newly acquired reading habits are still strong.

Management policy and operations have received much of the blame for the collapse of the business for the collapse of the business.

But while NY apparently has not had a big impact on reading habits, it has managed a few small but significant blows at magazine advertising. For one thing, it has booting magazines from second to third place as an advertising medium. Second, it has booting magazines from second to third place as an advertising medium.

6th OF SERIES — CUT OUT AND KEEP THE MOIRA DAM

"The price of cooperation is consultation!" —John Diefenbaker

The answer to the quick ice manufacturing question, I think you will agree with me, is a "large shallow pond". The small deep pond only affords a small floating surface. If this is true a narrow deep channel affords only a comparatively small surface area for floating, and again if the water in the channel is flowing fast very little ice can be made.

In No. 3 of this series we spoke about the large heavy one million cubic feet ice blocks. In the light of our reasoning on "narrow deep channels" a "large shallow pond", what can be done to reduce the size and danger of these menacing ice blocks and still retain a river of sufficient cross section to carry flood waters.

Students who fall insist that the teacher do all the work and they just sit and listen.

Those who advance in knowledge and achievements desire only the opportunity to study a problem under a minimum of guidance.

Can I get you interested in these big ice blocks and how to conquer them? If I can succeed in this I am sure that together we can come up with a good solution. Otherwise it will be just another flop.

another: another broadened its sales from store check-out points to regular news stands.

NAME INCREASED COST

When the McCall corporation, parent of McCall's Magazine, cut by half its quarterly dividend to shareholders, thereby after announcement of the Crowell-Collins suspension, the president of the corporation, reported a drop in earnings and blamed increases in paper costs and higher expenses for wages, advertising, selling and promotion.

At the same time, however, McCall's found it had gained in sales. Rising production costs are the grey crow in all publishers' corn.

Irving Mashinier, head of Macfadden Publications, says they have increased by at least one third in the last five or six years. Mashinier also says that his magazine with more than 10 per cent of its sales in subscriptions due for trouble—if it's not already trouble already.

He explains that many magazines, in an effort to deliver huge guaranteed audiences to advertisers, frequently must spend more to sell circulation than the magazine costs to operate.

He points to exorbitant prices of the cost of buying or developing mailing lists, personal solicitation costs, postage and billing expenses.

There may be much truth in Mashinier's theory. But there certainly are plenty of exceptions. Life magazine, with a subscription list amounting for more than 80 per cent of its circulation, last year achieved a level of earnings "never before equaled by any other magazine in the history of publishing," according to a recent management letter to Time, Inc. stockholders.

Other industry illness also appears to have had a satisfactory year. Among them are circulation leaders Reader's Digest, Ladies Home Journal, Saturday Evening Post, and Look.

The last thing a magazine will admit is poor health. There are experts who profess to have inside information indicating that most of the best known, widely distributed magazines are showing profit, not from magazine publishing but from diversified and sometimes auxiliary interests, from book publishing to real estate.

DISPERSED RED INDUSTRY

BRUSSELS (Reuters) — Brussels will embark this year on a massive plan for dispersal of industry. The ultimate aim is the creation of independent economic regions stretching across the vast length of her territory. It will inevitably render Russia less vulnerable to the crippling effect of atomic attacks on highly-concentrated industrial centres such as are found in Britain and western Europe.

WELCOME NEWS
The announcement by Hon. J. N. Allan, Ontario Minister of Highways, that the top priority is being given to the completion of Highway No. 401 east and west of Toronto will be a relief to many motorists.

Every driver believes that his problems are particularly pressing and deserve first consideration by the highway department. It is not surprising, therefore, that the completion of Highway No. 2, 4 and 6 is being given priority.

In many sections this highway carries a very heavy flow of local traffic and the cities, towns and villages along the route are suffering from the congestion.

Furthermore, this road runs past the site of the St. Lawrence seaway, one of the most important developments in the world which will result in a rapid expansion of that area.

THE FORTUNES OF WAR
The fortunes of war, there is a familiar phrase which carries with it the suggestion that war, like horse-racing, is an activity in which Luck plays a major role.

Nobody who has given any thought at all to the events of the Second Great War can have failed to marvel to find that the battle of Britain, which was supposed to have been a decisive victory for the Germans, ended in a tactical draw.

What would have happened if the seas had been closed to Dunkirk? Could the RAF have continued to fight if Goering had thrown his Luftwaffe against the gallant but badly trained French fighters?

It is a familiar story that the battle of Britain was a tactical draw. It is a familiar story that the battle of Britain was a tactical draw. It is a familiar story that the battle of Britain was a tactical draw.

Farmers' Position 'Hopeless' States Provincial President

SPRINGBROOK — "Canadian farmers are in a 'hopeless' and helpless position. If Canadian people were dependent on food produced in Canada, then farmers would have a chance," said Arthur V. Cormack, Provincial President of Ontario Farmers Union, when addressing a meeting of Local No. 171 Springbrook, last week.

The president compared the farmers' economic position with that of other groups. He displayed newspaper reports of many Canadian business firms declaring extra dividends. Imperial Oil made over $40,000,000 last year and has raised the price of gasoline 1 cent per gallon. The railways made the largest profit in history and were allowed to raise freight rates by 11 per cent. La. had earned the largest weekly and hourly pay in history.

"Now what about you?" he asked the farmers. He showed dairy herd improvement reports of 24 herds in one county which showed a loss of $179 per herd. If a reasonable rate of hourly pay was allowed, the cost of producing 100 pounds of milk was shown as $1.65 while the farmer received only $1.37 or 13 cents per hour for their work. A further report was exhibited which showed that between 1953 and 1954, during the three year period, 1163 herds in Ontario had averaged a loss of $358 for their owners. Cream producers earned 13 cents per hour. "What a contrast to the $1.65 average hourly rate earned by labor last year with no worry about wind, rain, or animal diseases," he stressed.

Valentine 'At Home' Held By H.S. Assoc.

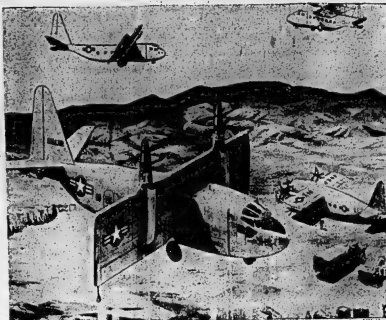

STIRLING — A large number of parents, ex-students, friends and students of King George High School, Stirling, attended their Valentine 'At Home' on Friday evening at the school.

The gymnasium was a bower of beauty decorated with red cupid, flowers and red streamers. The guests entered this enclosure through two rose trellis gateways decorated with flowers and colored lights which made an effective picture.

Peter Baitman's orchestra of Campbellford furnished music for round dancing from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m. The orchestra was seated in a special corner with a monstrous red heart as a background for their white attire.

The receiving line included Mr. John L. Good, principal of the school, and Mrs. Good; Mrs. James Johnston, vice-president of the new Stirling - Hamilton district high school board, and Mrs. Johnston; Mr. James Wright, honorary president of the Students' Council, and Mrs. Wright; Mr. Jim Hubel, president of the Students' Council, and Miss Mary Lou Palmer, secretary of the S.C. Delicious refreshments were prepared under the supervision of the home economics department, and the students did a marvelous job in serving the large crowd. Everyone was told in praise of the successful event.

You expected Newness—

BUT THIS BEATS ALL!

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

On the road is where you realize what all this means.

You feel a new obedience—a great and wondrous new lift—in the answer of Buick's big new 364-cubic-inch V8 engine teamed to an advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflow®—instant Dynaflow.

You feel a new safety, a new security, a new solidity of footing in the road-clinging stability of Buick's massive new chassis that "floats" the car to the lowest center of gravity in Buick history—yet without sacrificing an inch in wheel rise or vital road clearance.

But you ought to get this news where it happens—at the wheel of the newest New Buick yet.

That way you can also see for yourself how much more interior room you enjoy in the lowest Buick ever—again how much safer you feel with Buick's exclusive Safety-Minder® telling you with an instant buzz when you reach the miles-per-hour you pre-choose for yourself.

Drop in on us this week—today would be even better!
 *New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It's standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional on model extra cost on the Special. Safety-Minder is standard on Roadmaster.

IT'S RARE indeed when so many people come to the same conclusion so definitely. But in looking over this year's new cars, more and more people find that the newest of them all is Buick.

For over and above the brilliant newness of Buick's low-sweep fashion, you find here a new kind of performance and handling and safety and security and solidity of ride.

And do you know why?

Simply because Buick engineers provided all that—and more—in this spectacular automobile that is literally the newest Buick yet from top to bottom, front to rear, through every inch and ounce of its precision structure.

New Man-Made Fibre Suits Can Be Bought for One-Half Price of Today's Materials

TORONTO (CP)—A pretty girl clothed on the platform in a bathing suit.

The suit was made from one of the newer man-made fibres.

There was no sea for her to dip into — but if there had been we were assured that her suit would have shone the water quickly.

She also took a towel, made of the same fibre. And, if she had been in the water, we were assured that the towel would have quickly dried.

Boiled and tumbled were from the same fibre. But one does not want to be in the water for too long.

The demonstration was to impress us that man-made fibres, a new era in clothing, are being produced, can be engineered to meet the needs of the people for which they are intended.

It was part of the final session of the two-day conference of the Canadian Textile Association.

There are some of the world's greatest textile engineers and designers in the room. They are here to discuss the future of the textile industry.

High-quality suits on air — third the price of today's materials. Probably, in some lines, disposable clothing which can be thrown away after a wearing, especially in the work — clothes and uniforms.

Eisenhower Urges Sanctions Move Against His Talk

Future of UN and of Peace May Be at Stake, He Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — An attempt in the United Nations to impose new sanctions on Israel appeared almost certain today after President Eisenhower declared the UN must "exert pressure" to get Israeli troops out of the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba.

Arab countries, working through the UN's Arab League, have urged sanctions. The matter was referred to come up in the UN Friday Resolution in the General Assembly.

'Sanctions' Is Odd Word

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"Sanctions" is an odd word. In ordinary use, sanctions of something means that it's approved.

But in legal terms, carried over into diplomatic talk, "sanctions" denotes restriction, an intervention that tends to bring pressure upon a person or government.

And that's what United Nations diplomats are talking about in discussing whether to vote sanctions against Israel.

The term came into active diplomatic use in the 1920s in the League of Nations, a predecessor of the United Nations.

Smart Economy

Article 18 of the League of Nations covenant was the first attempt to regulate a system of international sanctions to enforce peace and security. It imposed on all members the obligation to adopt coercive measures, including financial and economic boycott, against states which resorted to war in violation of the covenant.

Oct. 2, 1923, was a significant date in the decline of the old league because it failed them to apply sanctions against Japan in the case of Manchuria.

Lately Mussolini, observing this impotence of the league, invaded Ethiopia. Oct. 2, 1935, was the declaration of war. In an attempt to restore its authority, the league then declared economic sanctions against Italy on Nov. 18, but the measures proved ineffectual.

Mussolini continued his aggression, and on May 5, 1936, formally annexed Ethiopia. The league decided further.

Fire Destroys 100-Year-Old Hotel

For 10 hours, firemen fought this stubborn blaze that finally destroyed the 100-year-old Hamilton Hotel in Simcoe, Ont. While tons of water were poured into the blazing structure, the flames continued to spread, endangering neighboring stores. Damage was estimated at $200,000.—Central Press Canadian.

Marmora, Madoc Win Opening Games Northern Intermediate Semi-Finals

The semi-final series of the northern division of the OHA Intermediate "C" league got under way in Madoc and Marmora last night with the home teams getting off on the right foot. In Madoc, Campbellford went down to a 2-0 defeat before the homeites while Marmora took the measure of Frankford by a 7-0 score. The second games of the best-of-five series will be played in Campbellford and Frankford tomorrow night.

MADOC'S — CAMPBELLFORD'S
Over 500 fans saw Madoc take a one-goal lead in the first period, add two more in the second and lose the game away with the third-period three-goal splash. Jackie Wedgough stung home the first goal with assists going to Campbell and Carwell. Madoc's second goal was scored by Brown as Hagman went before the net.

Carwell got the first of two goals in the third period on Wedgough's assist and the same player repeated a short time later with Wedgough an McLean helping. With Semark fired the sixth goal of the game in the later minutes with Wedgough and Carwell again in an assisting role.

Carwell spearheaded the Madoc offensive with two goals and two assists with Wedgough netting a goal and four helpers; McLean and two assists and G. Nield and Bud Semark hitting for Madoc. Brown, Hagman and Smith were credited with assists.

Changes in Cooking, Food Products Outlined at C.C.

At the regular Monday night meeting of the Central Canadian Club, members and friends were given a most interesting address by Mrs. D. L. MacKinnon, who outlined the changes in cooking and food products that are being made in the United States. Mrs. MacKinnon, who is well known to Belleville housewives.

"New appliances are being perfected and, even now, the refrigerator is in use. Food cooks in the refrigerator, the heat while the food absorbs it. An egg will cook in 30 seconds a potato in 3-4 minutes, and a turkey can be served in 10 hours."

"Foods are being designed for convenience, so that they may be re-arranged at will. Refrigerators are being designed to hold the type of food most useful at that particular point. Refrigerators may prevent food spoilage and shopping trips may be necessary only monthly instead of weekly, or often."

DELECTABLE CANNED FOODS
"In the early 1900's the use of the tin opener was frowned upon, but today we are accustomed to all kinds of delectable and easy to digest canned foods. Regional specialties may also be enjoyed anywhere."

"A new trend is apparent in Nevada have proven tinned and glass packaged foods to be safe and acceptable for use and free from radioactivity even at the atomic bomb test at the Nevada desert."

"Many of us are now aware of the fact that we are eating more than we need, and that the food is not as good as it was in the past."

CONSTRUCTIVE CRITICISM
Mrs. MacKinnon explained the work of the Canadian Association of Consumers to provide constructive criticism of food products, published in their monthly bulletin, and presented it has been successful in securing the products of better quality and lower cost, and many of them are in the process of investigation, especially the re-feeding of women."

CHANGING COATS

By VERA WINSTON

The coats developed for spring are definitely different from the heavy winter coats. The fur is light-weight fleece in a soft periwinkle blue. The coat is collected with some buttons to the Empire waist with a three-quarter belt at either side of the front and all the way down the back. This is done, of course, to emphasize the Empire silhouette. There is a shawl collar on the bodice and all the way down the slightly belted skirt.

and children's clothing. It is stressed that housewives should give legitimate complaints regarding quality or defective goods because constructive criticism is a higher standard can be set and maintained. Catherine Booth expressed the club's thanks to Mrs. MacKinnon also which refreshment were served by hostesses Marion Johnson, Evelyn Edger, Betty Morris and Florence Leonard.

Marion Halloran
Winner of PTA
Speaking Contest

The regular monthly meeting of the Parents/Teachers' Association of St. Michael's High School was held in the Assembly room Monday.

Mrs. Ernest Cook presided, and the Reverend Sister Mary Leane opened the meeting with prayer. Mr. H. O'Brien gave the financial report. The business portion of the meeting was recessed for the annual public speaking contest. JUDGES NAMED Sister Mary Leane named the judges and explained the nature of judging. The judges included:

Mrs. E. Lally, Mrs. G. Donaghy, and Mr. William Brennan. Those competing in the contest were: Dennis Macgregor, Gladys Morris; Larry McDonald; Margaret McArthur; John Black; Theresa Adams; Martin Halloran, and Joan Duggan.

By a process of elimination, these students had been the winners of public speaking contests in their individual classrooms. At the completion of the contest, and judging, Mr. Brennan, who gave the verdict of the judges reported that the choice had been a difficult one, but the prizes were awarded on points as follows: Martin Halloran, 1st prize; Theresa Adams, 2nd and John Black, 3rd. Both Dean Gierke and Sister Mary Leane, congratulated the students and expressed their pride in them. Mr. Cook announced that the contest was the generous donation of the Holy Name Society, and a note of thanks was expressed.

RELIGIOUS FILM TO BE SHOWN
Upon resuming the business portion of the meeting the members approved the idea of a religious film showing as the next fund raising venture. The date and choice of film will be announced at the next meeting. The students will be given the tickets to sell for this event.

It was decided that through the student council, students may be invited to attend P.T.A. meetings that would prove of special interest or benefit to them.

Mr. J. McArthur asked to be enlightened on the workings of the Student Council, and Sister Mary Leane explained its formation clearly, and commended it as a fine organization, but has done valuable work since its inception and is continuing to do so.

EXQUISITE CENTREPIECE

Presiding at the long tea table, with the Italian cutwork linen cloth, exquisitely centred by white anemones mingled with asparagus fern and red and white carnations, flanked by tall, slender red candles in modernistic wrought-iron candleholders, were Mrs. S. Coulter and Miss Ida Thompson; Mrs. Austin Smith, Mrs. Stone and Mrs. Patterson.

The guest tables were also pleasingly appointed with white linen, silver crests and glass sugar bowls and creamers, blue-edged metallic bears with tiny sprays of delicate pink apple blossoms, little reminders that the springtime was not too distant with all its wonder of awakening life.

TEA ROOM HOSTESSES

In charge of the tea room were

Replenishing the plates on the dainty sandwiches and tiny cakes were: Mrs. E. Goddard, Mrs. H. B. Weller, Mrs. H. Taylor; and replenishing the tea pots, Mrs. G. Deamish and Mrs. Patterson. The treasurer for the afternoon was Mrs. Bogly, whose pleasant smile more than compensated for the dues she exacted.

In the adjoining room there were four attractive tables of merchandise, all of which bore out the Valentine theme with color; the table of cards for birthdays, sympathy cards, dainty writing paper

The table of home cooking with its fine assortment of pies of every type, pumpkin, apple, lemon, coconut cream and mince; water thin cookies; luscious chocolate cakes, some with chopped nuts sprinkled over chocolate frosting; and a variety of breads, date and orange breads; raspberry and tarte tarts; oatmeal cookies; relishes and jams. Ont. Liberal Firmly Opposes Crop-Failure Aid to Farmers

OTTAWA (CP)—An Ontario Liberal has firmly opposed the federal government's 18-year program of crop-failure aid to prairie farmers.

Hugh A. MacKenzie, Lambton-Kent, said Wednesday in the Commons it is unfair to farmers of other provinces unable to obtain federal help for crop losses.

Mr. MacKenzie, who sits on the federal board for Agriculture Minister Gardiner in the Liberal front benches, sounded the only dissent note in two days of debate on a government proposal to increase payments under the Prairie Farm Assistance Act.

"I'll work against it and vote against it and do anything I can," he said. "That's the situation."

Mr. Gardiner listened to the speech but made no reply.

CROP SPENDING

Mr. MacKenzie said that probably well over $50,000,000 in federal money was spent from 1920 to 1926 to help prairie farmers through various programs.

"That's not bad," he said. But other parts of agriculture were not so well off.

Last year some growers in Southwestern Ontario had been unable to harvest thousands of acres of corn because of frost. Tobacco growers had suffered bad damage. Two years ago most of the area's best crop was lost.

"He said he had been told there could be no federal assistance, that it was a provincial matter."

MONEY CONTRIBUTE

The Prairies had the means of a crop insurance plan under PFAA, and other parts of agriculture which were not so well off had to contribute towards it.

"I don't think that's quite fair," he said. PFAA should be extended to all provinces, or the prairie provincial governments should take over the plan.

Douglas Harkness (PC-Calgary North), speaking elsewhere, said that in the next elections every candidate in the West running against a Liberal would be glad to pledge Mr. MacKenzie's speech.

"I am sure it will help to defeat some of the Liberal candidates running out there."

MEASURES ADOPTED

The PFAA resolution, and that in the next elections every candidate in the West running against a Liberal would be glad to pledge Mr. MacKenzie's speech.

Fire Damages Orillia School

ORILLIA (CP)—Fire partially damaged a dormitory building at the Ontario Hospital School here Wednesday night.

The fire started in the basement among a heap of stored mattresses and managed to work its way up to the main floor before the Orillia fire department brought it under control.

About 200 inmates in the dormitory were led to the safety of another building by hospital attendants. Cause of the fire was unknown and no estimate of damage was made.

Profits from government sale of liquor find the revenue upsurge in the year now ending, totaling $2,000,000 against an estimated $4,000,000. The 1937 agreement with the federal government provided $4,000,000 more than anticipated — $10,072,000, compared with a $12,700,000 estimate. Gasoline tax at $107,000,000 was up $1,000,000; motor vehicle licences up $4,000,000 at $4,000,000; and municipal duties up $4,000,000 at $5,000,000.

The provincial municipal road program in the coming year might cost $20,000,000. The province was providing for an increase of $20,000,000 over the current year's spending. Direct provision for new construction and maintenance was estimated at $11,400,000 and another $32,000,000 was budgeted for subsidies to municipalities which might spend an equal amount on their share.

BURGESS GRANTS. Education made up the largest share of assistance to municipalities. Grants for elementary and secondary pupils in the coming year were estimated at $101,000,000, up $10,000,000 from the $91,000,000 paid in the year now ending.

Increases were planned in unconditional grants paid to municipalities in recognition of their actual welfare expenditures. The grants in the fiscal year now ending consisted of a basic amount of $2.50 per capita plus an additional graduated amount up to $1.50. The larger payments went to larger cities. In the coming year, the basic grant would be $2 and the top amount $2.50 on the graduated basis.

Municipalities which had been contributing to cost of administration of justice — supreme courts, county courts, judges and so on — would also receive a basic grant of $1.50 per capita.

Total cost of the unconditional grants including hospital would amount to $20,000,000 compared with $12,000,000 in the present fiscal year.

In the past, the unconditional grants were used to reduce the general tax rate on all real property. However, owners of industrial and commercial property could charge their municipalities taxes as an expense of doing business and deduct them from the sale income before computing the cost of municipal taxes was about one-half the amount of their taxes and private owners enjoyed an similar advantage.

SPECIAL BENEFIT

"The most significant situation which will be applied to benefit residential and farm taxpayers only, is computing the tax rate the council will fix to the general rate for all property. The unconditional grant from the province will then be calculated as a percentage of the mill rate on real property expenditure.

Mr. and Mrs. George Mould and children, and Mrs. Alice Jeffrey of Trowel, were tea hour guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Tanner and family on Sunday.

IDENTICAL AND FARM PROPERTY. "We believe this measure will stimulate home ownership and also increase the number of dwellings available for rental purposes."

The $200-a-bed grants to public general hospitals for depreciation costs and other capital purposes formed the largest of the supplementary grants at $1,800,000.

Another $1,800,000 was set aside for nursing training in public hospitals and there were special grants to hospitals in the Toronto area: $700,000 to Western Hospital for nursing services, $200,000 to the Salvation Army Grace Hospital for nursing, $200,000 to Scarborough Hospital for outpatient work. The Ontario Hotel Foundation got $100,000 for research purposes.

Two superannuation funds each got $200,000 — teachers and police service. The grants were aimed at putting them on a sounder actuarial basis. The faculty of dentistry at the University of Toronto got $1,000,000, its fourth such grant for a new building.

Other supplementary grants: Waterloo College, $22,000 for special engineering studies; Girl Guides Association, $25,000 for its centenary year; Stratford Shakespearean Festival, $100,000 for its building program; Royal Ontario Museum at Toronto, $100,000; Royal Botanical Gardens at Hamilton, $100,000; Ontario Research Foundation, $100,000.

Mr. Porter mentioned that for years supplementary grants had been made to various universities. This time, their needs were being met in the budget for the coming fiscal year with grants totalling $29,218,000.

For maintenance and $1,007,000 for capital expenditure.

Senator Elgie was not the only member to criticize compulsory marketing powers of the wheat board.

Senator Thomas A. Cresser (L-Mainville) made the same criticism. He said Canada is not solving its surplus wheat problem and wouldn't under the present system unless there was a crop failure.

Senator Elgie's Senate colleague, Senator Robert B. (Bobbie) Elgie, one of the five-man Conservative group in the Senate, agreed with Senator Elgie that surplus wheat likely would be sold. He said surplus might prove to be a great asset in case of prolonged drought.

'Untouchables' Get Own Members For Last Time

BY ADRIENNE FARRELL
NEW ORLEANS (Reuters).—The 60,000 'untouchables' will enjoy the special protection of the constitution for the last time in the general election beginning Saturday.

At the next election, in 1945, they will have to stand on their own feet.

The constitution, drawn up in 1930, provided that for the first 10 years, the 'untouchables'—'untouchables' must be represented in Parliament in proportion to their numbers in the country.

This is done by reserving seats for 'untouchables' only in constituencies where they are numerous. In these constituencies, two members are returned to Parliament. One can be of any caste, but the other must be an 'untouchable', and stand for the 'general' seat. The other member, for the 'reserved' seat, must be an 'untouchable' himself, and the entire electorate takes part in the voting.

Northumberland S. Students Win Spelling Bee

CAMPBELLFORD.—A spelling bee for students in School Inspection No. 1 of Northumberland town hall on Friday evening. Campbellford district girl, Norma Timney of St. S. Mary's, won the girls' division and Grand Officer of Campbellford public school was the champion.

William Heidrich, parliamentarian, presided. The contest was held in the hall of the Campbellford public school. The girls' division was won by Norma Timney of St. S. GRANT FOR FISH LAB
WASHINGTON (AP).—The House of Representatives appropriations committee Thursday recommended a grant of $200,000 to the National Bureau of Fisheries technological laboratory at Gloucester, Mass. The laboratory would be under the fish and wildlife service.

Esposes Plea For Longer Time To Repay Loans

OTTAWA (CP).—The plan of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture for longer repayment periods on loans by the Canadian farm loan board was exposed Thursday night in the Commons by Hans Arqua, CCF farm spokesman.

The number for Anishnab, Sask., said the CFA's suggestion that repayment periods be extended from 30 years to 40 would not add to the risk involved in farming. In fact, it would make the security on loans even better than now.

Mr. Arqua spoke as the House resumed study of a resolution providing introduction of a bill to create the board's capitalization by $1,000,000 to $4,000,000.

Since the government can lend to the board up to 20 times the amount of capitalization, the board could borrow up to $80,000,000. Instead of the present $50,000,000, from the federal treasury.

Mr. Arqua and W. M. Howe of North Bay, Ont., said their town which they hope will soon be the largest city in the area—in Canada. The town is seeking metropolitan status, that is, it wants to be incorporated into a larger city.

William Heidrich, parliamentarian, presided. The contest was held in the hall of the Campbellford public school. The girls' division was won by Norma Timney of St. S. Mary's, and the boys' division by William Heidrich of St. S. Mary's. The contest was held in the hall of the Campbellford public school.

U.S. Will Agree to Israel's Request for Further Talks

WASHINGTON (AP).—Officials said today the United States will agree to Israel's request for further talks on the question of withdrawing her troops, but will not seek to delay United Nations pressure against the Jewish state.

Israel Thursday rejected President Eisenhower's newest appeal that she withdraw her troops from the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba area. But Premier David Ben-Gurion said "we hope the offer is not to be further postponed" and said his government will make a further effort to reach an understanding with the U.S.

Officially, the U.S. without its reaction pending a detailed study of the situation. Ben-Gurion said he would not accept an Eisenhower proposal.

REACTANT TO ACCEPT
Eisenhower and Dulles were described as reluctant to accept the Israeli's parliamentary statement as the last word. They believe her delay has sent by them some modifications which would in some manner change the situation.

Ben-Gurion said Israeli troops cannot be withdrawn from Egyptian territory bordering the Gaza Strip until Israel's interests in the Gulf of Aqaba are guaranteed.

Ben-Gurion's view clashed with that of President Eisenhower, who said that Israel must get its troops out of both places without insisting on guarantees.

Eisenhower pictured the issue as one in which one fulfills the principle and effectiveness of the United Nations, with the purpose of giving the U.S. no choice but to exert pressure on Israel to comply with the terms.

Ben-Gurion said the Eisenhower administration tried a new tactical maneuver. He said that the U.S. has urged this group to support U.S. policy, with the purpose of giving it in its influence on the Israeli government. The Israeli government is dependent to a large extent on U.S. aid.

New System to Prosecute Traffic Violations Provided

TORONTO (CP).—A new system of ticketing motor drivers for traffic violations is provided by a bill introduced Thursday in the Ontario legislature.

The legislation would permit the use of a uniform traffic ticket throughout the province but would not require the use of a uniform ticket. It would also require the use of a uniform ticket.

The proposed traffic ticket would be made up of two parts: Complaint, report of conviction, police report, and a summary of the offense.

A motorist would receive his summons along with his ticket from a police officer. The system was designed to streamline prosecution of motorists who violate provincial and municipal traffic laws and to eliminate some of the red tape involved in the present arrangement, whereby a summons must be served personally on a court order.

A motorist who pleads guilty would be issued a summons and a ticket. The ticket would be served personally on a court order.

Sir Patrick Thomas McGrath

Of Irish and English ancestry, Patrick Thomas McGrath was born at St. John's, Newfoundland on December 16, 1888, first child of William and Mary Margaret McGrath and educated at the Christian Brothers School where he took high marks in the various examinations—he was known as the "Irish saint." Leaving school at 15 years of age he entered the firm of McKenna & Co. as a drug clerk, serving them eight years, but was compelled to resign owing to ill health. Immediately after leaving McGrath he was offered, and accepted, the position of reporter on the St. John's Herald. Five years afterwards he became Editor. Amongst other features introduced by him during that time was the serialization of the daily telegraphic news, which no other paper in the County had as far attempted.

In 1907 he established the St. John's Evening Chronicle, and in 1912 when this paper merged with the Herald, he became President of the Company. He found time also to act as correspondent for several Canadian newspapers. In 1914, from 1914 until his death, he was correspondent for the London Times, the New York Times, Reuters Agency and the Associated Press for British Columbia.

The career of "Pat" as he was known to friends and in the Legislative world, was just as varied and dignified. In 1907 he became Assistant Clerk in the House of Assembly. In 1912 he was elected Member of the Legislative Council and in 1918 reached the President's Chair. In 1920 he was elected Speaker of the House. In 1922 he was elected Speaker of the House of Representatives. In 1924 he was elected Speaker of the House of Representatives. In 1926 he was elected Speaker of the House of Representatives. MUNICIPALITIES

"That would be something that would be consequent upon the budget," Mr. St. Laurent replied without elaborating.

There is speculation that Mr. Harris will announce the launch of his budget speech, likely in the last half of March, and that Parliament will be dissolved shortly afterwards for an election. The likely election dates must first be quickly mentioned are June 17 and May 27, both Mondays.

QNTX CHANGES

"We always hope that the legislation we bring forward can go through," Mr. St. Laurent told Howard Green (PC-Vancouver) who asked whether a measure implementing tax changes would be passed before dissolution. "But we do not at tempt to rush matters," he added. "In other words, the election is most important," he added.

Mr. St. Laurent replied: "Under the democratic system which we have, the assessment of property is the best safeguard of the rights of the people."

"There is no point in giving municipalities a much more what they need is a meal," said J. M. Macdonnell, the Opposition's financial critic.

The government proposes, in effect, to pay taxes on all its federal properties except on such things as parks and museums. However, the assessment of property and tax rates will be set by the government.

The central government now pays grants in lieu of taxes on crown property whose assessed value exceeds two per cent of a municipality's total property assessment.

Amherst Holloway (SC - Edmonton East), Michael Starr (PC - Ontario) and D. R. McIvor (PC - Toronto St. Paul's) all called for a federal-provincial-municipal conference aimed at re-aligning taxing powers.

So far, the government has rejected such requests but has let it be understood that the provinces could have federal municipal servers to federal-provincial conferences.

Mr. Starr, former mayor of Ottawa, renewed past requests for a federal-provincial-municipal conference to discuss redistribution of taxing powers to five municipalities a fair share of the tax dollar.

Rev. Don McIvor (U.-Fairview) said briefly: "I am going to be like members on the other side of the House and get on the bandwagon of those approving the measure."

WAS PRIVILEGED

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Farewell services were held Thursday for J. Elmer Spaydas, a 76-year-old American Negro, who viewed both worlds from the German side. Spaydas, a former singer, settled in Germany after a concert tour brought him to Europe in 1906. He was so well liked by the Germans that they did not intern him during either world war, although he was technically an enemy.

'Money Squeeze' Criticized by Liberal Senator

OTTAWA (CP)—Liberal Senator A. McLean of New Brunswick, machine banker, suggested Thursday that the federal government is trying to fight inflation with a "money squeeze" and high interest rates which in themselves are inflationary.

The senior John businessman said in the Senate that the only real cure for the inflation is greater productivity. This could not be accomplished with high interest rates that made money scarce and a bank rate that was inflationary in itself.

Senator Norman Lamberton (Ontario) said Senator McLean's argument was highly close to socialist theory. Senator George LaPrade (N.-Nova Scotia) agreed and said, apparently the New Brunswick senator wants to change the monetary system.

Senator McLean said Senator Lamberton couldn't have been listening if he thought he was hearing social credit theory.

The Maritime senator's address wound up the three speech debate which has been occupying the upper house off and on since Parliament assembled Jan. 8.

Senator McLean said it seems deplorable that a country like Canada, far from provinces and municipalities to go to the U.S. money market because of "an inflated monetary system" that makes Canadian money too expensive to borrow.

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

PEMBRKE TONIGHT

Tonight the Pembroke Lumber Kings will be the guests of the McFarlane in the final scheduled club ice game of the season. And, as a final surprise, the appearance of the Kings will be the last of the season.

The McFarlane are quietly confident that with their club all strength they can hand the Lumber Kings their first straight defeat, one that the Campbell-led squad can ill afford to suffer. But, in the event of a surprise, the Kings will be the ones to lose. That they will be holding desperately for existence in the playoffs does not mean they will not play the game to the hilt. The Kings will be the ones to lose. That they will be holding desperately for existence in the playoffs does not mean they will not play the game to the hilt.

It is hoped the Ontario Hockey Association will name a referee who will have no part in the game. The referee will be a referee who will have no part in the game. The referee will be a referee who will have no part in the game.

Regardless of the federal regulations that followed the unfortunate freeze that occurred the last time these teams met here, tonight's game should be a clean hard-fought one. It will be a game that will be a clean hard-fought one. It will be a game that will be a clean hard-fought one.

ADVICE TO THE LOVELORN

BY BEATRICE FAIRBairn

YOU DON'T REALLY WANT TO LEAVE HIM, DO YOU?

Dear Beatrice Fairbairn: My husband has been having an affair with a young married woman for some time. This was told about it was that he was seen in a bar with this young woman and someone told me about it. When I confronted him about it he was broken enough to admit it and say that he has a good reason for taking her because she is a good sport and drinks.

I've never been in the habit of either drinking or drinking with anyone. I wonder now if I should take up with these things and go back with my husband in the evenings.

I would like to know, too, if it would be better for me to take up with these things and go back with my husband in the evenings.

One more question that I can't really make up my mind whether I should go on living with a man like that or not. We have been married thirty years and it is the second time I've caught him going out with another woman.

Dear Mrs. P.R.: Let's take up the question you make one by one. On the first, I would say that I think you should try to get your husband to stop drinking and getting into the habit of going with his husband over in the hope that you can put your competition out of the picture.

As for the second question, I think you should be completely out of character for you. You should be a woman who is not afraid of herself, and of a sudden, I don't see any moral difference between you after years as the betrayer of your husband.

When Miss Haverall wrote her poem, "I'm So Glad to See You," you could, it would be extremely kind and might lead to his trouble instead of less. If you were to try such a thing, you would only be more sure you are not.

Again, I strongly advise you not to go into this office with your husband to report what is going on between him and his mistress. Almost certainly, it would make the situation worse.

Many of the world's finest and most precious hymns have been written by men, but few of these hymns have been as consecrated as was Frances Havergal's, the hymn, "I'm So Glad to See You."

Stories of Famous Hymns

by HOMER & POWELL

THEY ARE THE STORIES OF THE MEN WHO WROTE THE HYMNS THAT HAVE BEEN SINGED BY MILLIONS OF PEOPLE

Lord, speak to me that I may speak in living words of Thy love; Thy heart's thought I may seek.

I lead me, Lord, I may lead the wandering and the wayward; O feed me, Lord, I may feed Thy hungry ones with manna.

Strengthen me, that while I stand Firm on the rock, and strong in word, I may reach out a living hand To wrestlers with the Trough.

I would like to know, too, if it would be better for me to take up with these things and go back with my husband in the evenings.

Question: "... don't go to get my children ... work to support me until after 6 p.m. Our supper is rather a rush ... have trouble cooking small amounts ... do you have any meat dishes that could prepare the night before ... I make a steak and kidney pie the night before then heat it up the following day - instead of water I use a can of cream of mushroom soup ... any ideas for lunches (carried) would be appreciated ... Helen W.

 Little boys who take the name of Duff are supposed to end up in jail, but Dick Duff has been in the National League.

Of course Duff's idol is no longer his namesake but Ted Lindsay of Detroit Red Wings, who has reached the major leagues in the process of being the best left wing in the league's history.

Bobby Shantz' Double Injuries Forced Philly Move to Kansas

By JOE BUCHANAN
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — If little Bobby Shantz hadn't suffered a shoulder injury in 1954 and a pulled shoulder muscle in 1955, the 21-year-old pitcher would not have been in the Philadelphia Phillies line-up in the winter of 1956.

The 24½ outpaw, who became a free agent last week, was along with pitcher Art Ditmar in this surprising disclosure today. His authority is Roy Mack, former Phillies' president, without whom the club could not have been transferred.

"Roy Mack called me to say goodbye after the club was transferred," related Shantz. "If I still had been able to pitch, we'd still be in Philadelphia," he told me.

Every'ting Tres Bien in Kebec Jean Beliveau Sex Is Hokay

By W. W. WHEATLEY
CANADIAN PRESS Staff Writer
MONTREAL (CP)—Jean Beliveau learned Saturday that his fretting and worrying over his health are groundless, and simultaneously a wave of excitement and appreciation among Montreal hockey fans quickly subsided.

There was quite a flap among town—from Montreal—Canadians on down to the village level, when it was learned that the big centre star of the Canadiens had been hospitalized for a few days. The news was spread by the Montreal Star, which said he had been hospitalized for a few days.

Beliveau told newspaper men that he had been hospitalized for a few days, but that he was not seriously ill. He said he had been hospitalized for a few days, but that he was not seriously ill.

Beliveau showed up at the Montreal Forum for the usual 15 min. pre-game meeting of the team in preparation for the game against New York Rangers.

Beliveau was left quietly to await the medical report. There was an air of mystery about the Forum. Coach Toe Blake said Beliveau declined, giving his "newspaper releases" but had "mentioned something about seeing a doctor."

A few hours later, Blake had a telephone call from Dr. Van Pelt, Beliveau's personal physician. Blake reported the result.

Beliveau had shown Beliveau in a way and can continue playing. Dr. Van Pelt suggested, however, that Beliveau be given a rest from the game.

Beliveau is the "worrying type" said Blake. "He has been worrying about his heart lump and the lump of the team. Sometimes he seems to feel that the team's slump was his own fault."

Beliveau has also had personal worries too. His mother is ill in hospital. The doctor said Beliveau seemed greatly relieved to know his mother was feeling better with him.

Beliveau is the "worrying type" said Blake. "He has been worrying about his heart lump and the lump of the team. Sometimes he seems to feel that the team's slump was his own fault."

Win Tri-Service Sports Tourney

KINGSTON (CP)—College Militants of Kingston, Ont., romped to an easy victory in the annual tri-service sports tournament staged Friday and Saturday at the Royal Military College, Kingston.

The team amassed 20 points in the official standings to outclass Royal Military College, Kingston, and the University of Western Ontario, London.

In volleyball, CMR scored three victories over RMIC to win the event with one loss in six games. A three-way tie resulted in the basketball as each team won one game.

Royal Roads swamped CMR 60-30 in the only court game Saturday to register its first win in three games. But the victory went to CMR in the swimming and diving to amass 43 points, 18 more than Royal Roads' 25 and 11.

RMIC scored its only major victory in the shooting competition. The Kingston cagers ended 40 points to edge out RMIC which had 30.

CMR finished with 42. Air commander D. A. T. Bradshaw, commander of RMIC, presented the Brock Cross Trophy, emblematic of tri-service supremacy, at a tournament banquet Saturday night.

The Pembroke Lakes Kings can park their hockey gear for the winter and all back and watch victory. Cornwall, Belleville and Kingston go to the mat for the crown. The Kings played one of the playoff picture in their own locker, say Saturday leading to the Whistler Dunlop 5-5 after holding the league leaders to a 3-1 tie going into the final check.

The Dunlops and the Cornwall Chevies went through a tough game in the overtime city Sunday afternoon with the first affecting the scoring records only. The squads have battled down the first and second-place ladders respectively.

The rampaging Kingston CKL's splash victory over the Crest of their week-end over the weekend. Saturday night snatching up their sixth consecutive victory to creep within four points of the third-place McFarlands. The Mass play the final act in this Eastern Ontario "A" game. They have Friday night when they meet the Chevies. The Mass can tie the clincher on third-place with a win over the Men of 'Mitten.

Kingston, with two games to play, can tie the McFarlands as far as points are concerned by taking these games. Saturday the Mass do not get by Cornwall on Friday. Tuesday, when teams are tied for a playoff berth the goals averages are taken into consideration and if such is the case the Eastern Ontario playoffs will still draw a lot of interest. The Mass split since they have a far more impressive record than the CKL's.

Vice-president Ron Cook of Kingston called a meeting of the league for Cornwall, and the brass got together. The intention is to iron out the playoff picture. The outcome of the meeting was not available at this writing but is published elsewhere on the sports page.

Assuming that Whistler Mitten Kingston and the McFarlands take the Cornwall Chevies in the semi-finals which will likely be a best-of-seven series, the halfway battle to the group championship should be productive of some hard-fought battles. The Dunlops and the CKL's will have a playoff draw rehearsal this week but the immediate part of the season. The immediate part of the season of the Kingston club into consideration the Dunlops will have their work cut out to take this one.

Anahoe, with the shuffling of the referee's whistle in the first game of the semi-finals series a "new" league level of play was set. You can forget the old days of the "A" level. The new league is a new league, selective and individual performance and you know how many goals. That, as to speak, is the end of the hockey book. Reputations and records do not win championships.

While the wise ones, no doubt get the hell on the Dunlops to take the replay this time. The Mass will have to play to it is the Mass that the Bruins will win. The Ontario, however, a lot of people, including the Dunlops, we are not getting the idea. The Dunlops, however, a lot of people, including the Dunlops, we are not getting the idea. The Dunlops, however, a lot of people, including the Dunlops, we are not getting the idea.

The Dunlops have a tough test in the semi-finals, if they draw the Kingston club. The hottest team in the league is the Dunlops, the CKL's rebounded from their season. The Dunlops, however, a lot of people, including the Dunlops, we are not getting the idea. The Dunlops, however, a lot of people, including the Dunlops, we are not getting the idea.

The Belleville McFarlands played a dashy tie game in the first half of the schedule, one which anchored them more or less to third place. They went in a slump once down the back end of the season. The Dunlops, however, a lot of people, including the Dunlops, we are not getting the idea. The Dunlops, however, a lot of people, including the Dunlops, we are not getting the idea.

Reds Open Gap, But Face Two Challengers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The defending champion

St. Louis Cardinals

four-point lead in the National League, but now have

instead of one.

The Reds began the weekend with Cleveland, but Providence

while, the sizzling Rochester

American won their winning streak to five and moved into a second-place tie with Cleveland.

Providence whipped the tall-order club 4-1 Sunday night

after beating fifth-place Buffalo

5-1 Saturday. Rochester beat

Cleveland 4-1 Wednesday night and edged Springfield 4-1 in overtime the night before. Braves had scored by Hershey 5-4 Saturday.

The four-place Bears, with a

of the Reds, hosted by Buffalo

8-2 Sunday night. As a result, they moved to second place and

Hershey by three points and is now in front of Buffalo.

HIT FOR THREE

Providence struck for three hits in the first inning, but

St. Louis' Ivan Irwin, Paul

Larver and Jim Barlett added

winning run.

Winger and Barlett and goalie

Bobby Perreault scored Rochester to its victory over Cleveland.

Barlett tallied twice and Perreault scored four saves. John

Edgar and Paul Maniaci also scored for Rochester. John

McDonald finally beat Perreault

in the final period.

Bob Hansard, traded by Hershey

twice against Hershey, as did

Kevin O'Brien. Other scorers were Ken Wharney, Larry Wilson, Chuck Blair, John

Nicholson and Ed Pangnabo were the losing side.

Sao Paulo Preparing to Build First Rapid-Transit System

SÃO PAULO, Brazil (Reuters) — Sao Paulo, a city of 3,000,000 inhabitants where workers have to leave for an hour to get a bus home, is preparing to build the first rapid-transit system in Latin America.

The municipal Transport Company, Companhia Municipal de Transportes Coletivos, has accepted a bid, offered at public tender by Alweg of Cologne, West Germany, to build an overhead monorail system, though no contract has yet been signed. This is the first of a series of bids by a special commission set up by the Brazilian Institute of Engineers.

The president of the Institute, Oscar Pires, said that the municipal transport company, has promised not to sign any contract without the approval of this institute because a public works project is the manner in which the call for tenders was limited.

Two firms in addition to Alweg offered tenders: the General Electric of Traction and Elevators (Traction and Elevators) and the General Electric of Traction and Elevators (Traction and Elevators).

This budding virtuoso used to drive his family carry a trombone in the hands of a beginner can be trying on the nerves. These are better now. Father built him a practice room... thoroughly soundproof... with money he'd saved through a special account at the Royal Bank.

You may not need a room of this type in your house, but you may hope some day for a playroom, nursery, guest room, even major renovations. That's what money does practically all the good things you have planned for the future.

The wise course is to school yourself to save a fixed amount every pay day, and tuck it away in a savings account at the "Royal". This way you are sure to have cash when you need it. After all... there's nothing quite like money in the bank.

Territorial Dispute Settled,
Peace Reigns in Trieste Area

By Raymond Canon

A few years ago the newspapers used to be filled with reports from Trieste, describing in great detail the considerable number of border incidents between the Italian and Yugoslav in that area, or difficulties between the American and British troops comprising the occupation forces had to overcome in order to maintain order.

Since no understanding was reached there in 1934, the situation has quieted down. The allied forces have long since left the city, to the Italian army, and the city is very interesting to me because of its connection with the city as it was in 1931-32.

First to refresh your memory, a bit of past history. Trieste is located in the extreme north-west corner of Italy. During the period between the two world wars, the whole surrounding area was part of Italy, but after the war, the most of this area was claimed, and in fact occupied, by Yugoslav forces as a part of the spoils of victory. They were, however, unable to take over Trieste with its important harbor along the American and British stepped in ahead of them, and from shortly after the end of the war until 1954 the whole port area was under the trusteeship of an Anglo-American military government. Both the Italian and Yugoslav claims to the area overlapped so much that it took years of negotiating and considerable prodding on the part of London and Washington before a solution acceptable to all was reached.

The agreement as signed called for the division by the British of the city of Trieste as well as a narrow strip of land along the coast, extending to the hills deep to connect the city to the rest of Italy. The Yugoslavs, for their part, obtained all the remainder of the surrounding area. There were many Italian still settled in this latter area, and most of them retained to live under the Yugoslav flag. As a tonnage, especially lumber, which was still burning with activity, but they still have enough orders at the present time to keep them busy until well into 1938. In addition, since the occupation forces left, many exporters in that country have found it to their advantage to export their goods to the Near and Far East through Trieste.

Back in the time of Napoleon the city began to take on the appearance as a center of commerce, which it still retains to a certain extent. It has also one of the most important ship-building industries in the world, with over ten thousand workers, and turning out each year ships whose value of construction reaches into the hundreds of millions. In addition there are many allied industries, especially a large drydock, and factories producing dockyard equipment.

Cities whose property depends on the sea are more likely to suffer extremely had the loss of their major port. When the whole area around Trieste was under Italian rule, as a port for this district, but now that it is a part of Italy, the city has been able to recover its position. When the city was supported economically by the sea, the recovery would enter a period of decline. But as luck would have it, the city was able to profit from the great shortage of ocean-going

Moira Conservation Authority
Outlined to Kiwanis Club

Michael Chubb, field representative of the Moira River Conservation Authority, addressed the Kiwanis Club of Hastings yesterday and outlined the plan currently being done in Hastings County to improve the Moira River.

The "Authority," said Chubb, is primarily concerned with reforestation in Hastings County. With the help of wood-land, once-barren and now become fertile because of the help of the water, another aspect of the plan is to help the conservation of the river.

Belleville has experienced several serious floods in the spring of the years because the water in the Moira River flowed into the Bay of Quinte uncontrolled and at the same time carried huge chunks of ice to bottleneck the mouth of the river. In recent years huge chunks of ice and at least one more (at Bay Bend above Moira Lake) have been expected to be constructed shortly to help control the water and eliminate serious flooding.

The Authority governs 1,054 square miles of territory in the Hastings County watershed provided by the Moira River and its tributaries. Seventy lakes of various sizes flow into these rivers. All told there are 500 miles of river in the watershed.

TOURIST INDUSTRY TO BENEFIT

Mr. Chubb believed that one of the Hastings County woodlots are restored the tourist industry. In particular, will pick up because of increased fishing and scenic attractions. Hastings County is a land of many beautiful tourist attractions and the Authority is doing everything possible, within its limited budget, to assure the people of the county a truly more beautiful place in which to live.

Seventeen municipalities in Hastings County contribute toward so various projects. Reports showed that the Chapter held sent handbooks to forest owners in Christmas parcels to local nursing homes, a considerable number of knitted articles to the Headquarters, film strips and magazines donated to schools and a flag donated to Campbellville Hospital, the last payment to be made early in 1937. Berensyde Chapter members also contributed to the success of Old Home Week by holding a coffee party and presenting a float in the parade.

Two executive meetings were held at the home of the Regent, Mrs. Beane was nominated and elected to the Provincial Executive Committee.

The 1937 Executive is as follows: Mrs. Beane, Regent; Mrs. E. H. Perry, Regent; Mrs. Stuart A. Anderson, Vice-regent; Mrs. Douglas Maylene, 2nd Vice-regent; Mrs. George V. Secretary, Mrs. Fred M. Treasurer, Mrs. Robert B. Bennett, Educational Secretary, Mrs. Arthur J. Secretary, Mrs. Robert B. Bennett, Mrs. Ernest Archer, services at home and abroad secretary, Mrs. Ross Douglas, member and "World Affairs" secretary, Mrs. Alfred Douglas, communications relations secretary, Mrs. James G. Secretary, Mrs. James G. Secretary.

CAMPBELLFORD—The annual meeting of the Berensyde Chapter, I.O.O.F., was held at the home of Miss Dorothy Kingston, Regent, Mrs. James G. Secretary, in the club.

The annual report was read and adopted and 1936 proved to be a successful year, with a total of 101 to 12,344 being raised by their

RAWDON

Day of Prayer
To Be Held at Bethel Church

RAWDON—The World Day of Prayer service for Rawdon circuit will be held at Bethel United Church on Friday afternoon, March 28.

The service was prepared by Serena Vassady, formerly of Hungary. It was adapted for use in Canada by a committee of women's inter-church Council of Canada. The theme is "Who Shall Secure It?" The service aims to rededicate all those in attendance to the world-embracing mission of the church.

The offerings are used by the Inter-Church Council to help train leaders in India, Japan, Africa, South America and Canada. Christian literature is provided for many countries, and students from overseas are given education in Canada. The hungry are fed; the homeless find a home, and aid and comfort is given to many needy folk.

On March 28th women will represent 144 countries in unified meditation and prayer.

The writer of the service is a Hungarian woman who came to the United States with her husband and family shortly after World War I.

At that time she had no English and how she has mastered the language of her new home.

Mrs. Vassady wrote the service, and she also wrote a foreword which is called "Prayer in the Rites." A year ago she wrote an interesting story for the "Hillier South."

The inter-church council had hoped to get new projects under way in 1936 but the fire-will of the service and the attendance were below the mark for the first year. They hope for favorable weather, full attendance and a generous offering in 1937 on March 28.

BOOK CENSORSHIP CONFUSED
People concerned with every aspect of the book trade, legal and political minds and many editors seem to be confused by this book censorship. The Ontario Intelligencer, in its recent meeting suggested doing all day Monday and Tuesday morning open house for the public to get the rest of the week, as now, until 8.00 p.m. on Tuesday.

This would give the public a chance to see the books as they are being censored, and to see the percentage of the public who are censored. This would mean more exposure for the merchant as these things would be brought back to the public.

Mr. Hees then asked "Is the Minister not aware that the book has been on sale on Ottawa book stands for a long time?"

"No," replied the censor. "I do not frequent or patronize the book stores where such books are sold."

"Ten North Frederic" has been in the pocket book cover form in bookstores and libraries since 1935 when it won the National Book Award for best juvenile fiction. It was the Ontario Intelligencer's first book written by the literary editors of the New York Times and the New York Post.

Now after two long years, the Attorney General's department has finally authorized a review of the book. The Ontario Intelligencer is a book which is still circulating while the Windsor Public Library which is still circulating the same book has been suppressed.

The Windsor Star writes, "That's what we mean by plain language. It's a book that's so good that it's been suppressed. It's a book that's so good that it's been suppressed. It's a book that's so good that it's been suppressed."

"In order to put this book in the public domain, we have offered as a symbol of good faith $10,000 towards the formation of a board of censors. This board will be made up of people from the book trade, the public, and the government to handle all of the publisher's titles 'across-the-board,' or name, are particularly concerned with their situation this year. The book trade is particularly concerned with their situation this year. The book trade is particularly concerned with their situation this year."

"Unfortunately the matter has been kicked around as a political football for years. We are now no closer to a solution of a problem which is of concern both to the public and everybody connected with bookkeeping in Canada."

CONFORMITY AND INDIVIDUALITY
In a recent address to the Canadian Institute of Public Affairs, Dr. Rollo May repeated the finding of the Gordon Report and the conclusions of other leading authorities on the subject of conformity and individuality, as co-operative effort and mechanical production assert increasing dominance.

"The individual is progressively losing his individuality. Their goal too often is aimed by the normal group, and often means average."

"An inner fear of passivity dominates people now and persons in an effort to escape this feeling, they huddle together in the crowd. Originality and original ideas are shunned as a result."

"The over-reliance on techniques and machines to control nature that has developed in the past century in western culture has been the cause of the machine and man's complete conformity. The machine and man's complete conformity is the cause of the machine and man's complete conformity."

"The machine and man's complete conformity is the cause of the machine and man's complete conformity. The machine and man's complete conformity is the cause of the machine and man's complete conformity."

Rare Old Book About Hudson

McGill University, which is steadily enriching its library with rare books, has acquired a copy of a rare book about Hudson.

This is a book entitled "The Hudson River" by Henry Hudson's exploration of the bay that bears his name. It is a book that is a treasure to any collector of rare books.

Hudson himself never returned to the bay. He was cast into the sea by the Dutch. The book is a treasure to any collector of rare books.

TODAY'S COURTESY? THINK OF THE THIRD PERSON

Please don't be so inconsiderate as to invite one person to a party or other occasion in the presence of a third person who is not included in the invitation. It is socially awkward thing to do. It is extremely thoughtless, most unkind to the one not included.

BE ASKED TO GIVE GRACE

Dear Mrs. Beckman:
My husband and I are Episcopalian, and although it is not our custom to say grace at our table, we have occasionally thought it would be a fine thing for us to do. Now we have a special problem about this. My cousin, who lived in our family for several years before her marriage, recently married an Episcopal clergyman, and when he returns from his wedding trip, we would like to be the first to invite him to dinner, though we have other guests. I think we should. But my husband is uncomfortable about this, saying he would feel rather self-conscious to say grace on this occasion when this is not customary with us. What do you suggest?

I suggest, most definitely that you and the clergyman to say grace. This is the correct and gracious procedure, and he will be quite sure, expect to be asked to say grace. And I have a feeling that this very special occasion might very well be the first time that you and your husband would be together for quite a few years, and we are having our very small, informal wedding in the chapel of this church. I have only one child, a 13-year-old girl. She is a lovely child (well, you please permit me my pride in her!), and she and I have always been so devoted to each other that I would be much like to have her as my only attendant at my wedding. Would this be at all proper? (My groom-to-be has only one child, a

BY EMATHOR FAIRBANK

WITH FORBESANCE, THIS CASE MAY PASS

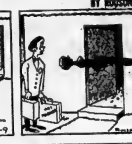

Dear Reader: Fairbanks:
About six months ago, I had to be away from home for some weeks because my mother died. I got quite far from where my husband and I live and I had to get my father settled again.

When I came home, I heard a rumor that my husband had been having an affair during my absence with a married woman in our town. I just couldn't believe it. As my husband has always been wonderful to me, but when asked him about it, he admitted it. He said that he would never have meant to do a thing like that, but he was lonely while I was gone and drifted into it. He said that he would give me a little time but never see this woman again, but he was afraid that if he broke off with her suddenly, she might make trouble. Well, I've given him time. I've thought of going to her husband and telling him about it, if he doesn't know already, it would probably break up, and I don't want that to happen because this woman has several children. To you think I should take a chance and go to see him, or just wait while my husband takes his own sweet time about breaking off? Mrs. W.

A HAND-GROOMING ROUTINE FOR TEEN-AGERS

Beauty is comprised of many, many elements but, to keep the average teenager's face, you'd think that it depended on one thing only—the complexion needed to make up her pretty face. Oh, yes, she's had enough when it comes to foundation, lipstick, powder and make-up.

der and mascara, and in most cases, she does try to effect a pretty balance. But there's no such thing as beauty that's perfect and plain. What about prettiness, for her beauty?

A regular hand grooming routine is as important as the daily bath. Hair brushing and teeth brushing, hair brushing, if done regularly, is almost as little thing. The most important thing to remember is the hair. To what you'd a pretty hair? It has to be as pretty as the hair. To what you'd a pretty hair? It has to be as pretty as the hair. To what you'd a pretty hair? It has to be as pretty as the hair.

Hand lotion is important too. Or you might prefer a cream. The only thing to remember is that hands cannot remain soft and pretty if other parts of the face are not applied after every washing. The new ones apply themselves two brushes—a wide one for the hands themselves on one side of the face, a narrower one, strictly for the nails on the other.

Make Merry—Make Pancakes On Shrove Tuesday

By Mary Moore

Next Tuesday is Shrove or Pancake day on which day, by right, you should consume your last and best shrove.

In the cooking department I've been handling pancake mass for weeks — none little heating that you and the family will smother your liver and repeat every week during Lent.

1 egg, 1½ cups milk, 3 tablespoons melted butter, ½ teaspoon vanilla, sift dry ingredients together, beat egg and mix it add the milk and butter and vanilla. Beat until perfectly smooth. Pour into preheated griddle, making each pancake the same size. Bake on one side until puffed and full of bubbles, then turn and bake other side. Serve with butter and maple syrup or jam or marmalade.

CAZZY (cheesecake)

This is the thin pancake batter to be used for dessert pancakes such as cream Suetlets which I made and wrote to you about at Christmas. Two large eggs, 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour, 1 cup milk, 1 teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons of melted butter or margarine, 1 teaspoon orange or lemon juice, or cooking brandy or sherry, beat eggs until thoroughly mixed, then add remaining ingredients and beat until perfectly smooth, cover and let stand about 1 hour. Make each cake exactly the same size by filling ¼ cup measure two-thirds full. If you stand over the pan constantly you can do it at a time but will be pouring and pouring constantly. Electric grill is a great convenience. As each cake is done roll it up white hot, or fill with whipped cream, or hot cream cottage cheese, strawberry filled whipped cream, and serve sliced strawberries or other fresh fruit or preserves over each.

BEST WAFFLES

1 cup sifted all-purpose flour are sifted with 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon each baking soda and salt. Nation's Morals Are Degenerating Official Claims

TORONTO (CP) — A United Church of Canada official, said Tuesday the nation's morals are degenerating to a dangerous extent because the Christian church has failed to reach and uphold high moral standards.

Rev. J. McInch, secretary of the church's board of evangelism and social service, made the statement in his annual report. He said he found "a rising tide of sensuality" among Canadians and it was the duty of both church and state to get the facts on the situation.

"The investigation must be made in weary detail and held as well as in multi-room bedrooms where prostitutes pay on a noon and time basis," he said.

SENTEENCES RECORDED — His sentence was echoed in a report by Rev. W. G. Barry, an associate secretary, who wrote in an accompanying report:

"The constant increase in immorality, gambling and sexual excess in this land indicates a reckless misuse of the gifts with which God has entrusted us."

At another point, Dr. McInch criticized moderns who take jobs even though the money is not needed to sustain the family. Children placed in day nurseries while their mothers worked found little better than those of long-ago who were "pulled into other families and made to meet the rapacious demands of the industrial revolution."

He said there is a "perverse relationship between social drinking and 'sexual immorality'."

Search for 'Kruger Millions' Again Started Despite Fact None Was Ever Buried

New Jay Premier Was Her Criminal

By BRAD NICHOLSON
JOHANNESBURG (Reuters) — Another search is being made for the "Kruger millions" in spite of the fact that the police admitted the imagination of treasure hunters.

Many unsuccessful searches have been made for this hoard of gold reported to have been buried by President Paul Kruger before he went into exile in Holland after the British victory in the Boer War.

A man who was in close touch with the Boer command at the time the "Kruger millions" are said to have been hidden gave the police the story in Pretoria recently.

The report of J. J. de Wet, 57-year-old former chief justice, is that those who search for the Kruger treasure-trove "might just as well go searching for the man in the moon."

De Wet was on Gen. Louis Botha's staff as military secretary during the fall of Pretoria. He, in turn, was a close friend of the late Gen. Botha's last chief of staff, Gen. Jan Smuts' first cabinet.

On Jan. 1, 1900, a few days after the British forces reached Pretoria, de Wet and Gen. Botha left the city in a motor car, leaving the bulk of the army to follow. The car was followed by a few hundred men, but no one was allowed to get into it.

Expect to Finish 60 Per Cent of Pipeline This Year

By BRAD NICHOLSON

OTTAWA (CP) — By the end of this year almost 60 per cent of the 2,366-mile natural-gas pipeline from Alberta to Eastern Canada will be complete, J. Patrick, chief engineer of TransCanada Pipe Line Ltd., said today.

Addressing the Association of Commercial Engineers and Surveyors, Patrick said that the moment weather conditions permit work will resume to complete the stretch between the Alberta-Saskatchewan border and Windsor.

On that section, 200 miles of the line have been laid. Operations this year will start near Regina and natural gas is due in Windsor by the end of the year.

During the winter, 50-inch pipe would be laid 15 miles from Windsor to the Manitoba-Ontario border.

From that point, TransCanada will superintend construction by the gas corporation itself. The line, of another 100 miles, to Port Arthur, 50-inch pipe, is being laid.

At the same time, 36-inch pipe would be laid 15 miles from Windsor to the Manitoba-Ontario border.

FRENCH ROUND UP ALGERIAN TERRORISTS

There are three of the 30 snipers which were used in a major raid in Algiers, eliminating weeks of investigation aimed at finding the source of terrorist weapons. Mrs. Clarence Fitzpatrick presented the chapter on "Dances" from the study book, describing the people, religious institutions, and conditions. Mrs. Clancy assisted by giving a reading on "Agriculture and Rural Missions" from the book "Make Way For Brotherhood".

A piano solo by Mrs. Bruce Stapley was enjoyed, also a poem "God is Every Where" read by Mrs. Milton Bell.

Mrs. Stapley thanked Mrs. Bridges for opening her home for the program. Mrs. Clancy, and all others taking part in the program. Mrs. Stapley also expressed the pleasure of all at having Mrs. Nathan Wammanacher and Mrs. Russell Stapley, of Stirling, in attendance at the meeting.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses and a social hour was enjoyed by all.

Johnstown

JOHNSTOWN — Sunday school and church were held at Johnstown on Sunday afternoon.

G.A. Pothmann's talk was about the Christian Temperance Union. His drew attention to the fact that all churches are worried about the use of beverage alcohol.

The United Church women used their members obtain from drinking all kinds of drinks that would cause their brother-in-law to feel that they do not want to have them if they do.

No other evil causes such as military, crime, highway tragedies, and decadence in this 21st century, but if one drinks beer or wine just has to drink more of one than the other.

The Temperance Union does great work, it needs prayers and appreciation as well as money in its drive against evil.

New York May Legalize Bingo

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — New York's legislature delayed Tuesday to make bingo legal in the state again.

A proposed constitutional amendment will be submitted to the voters in November. It would permit open houses of bingo games by charitable, religious, civic or fraternal groups, when so authorized by local governments.

State law is based on a form of gambling.

The state's legislative action on the proposed amendment came in the assembly where it was approved 12-2.

Detroit (AP) — A midnight strike deadline that threatened to close Chrysler Corporation assembly operations and leave 40,000 workers out of work Tuesday night by the United Auto Workers Union, Norman Matthews, UAW vice-president, said "as much as we are making progress, we are striving our members to stay their jobs until further notice."

RFU Grey Cup Eligibility in Hands of Amateur Group

MONTREAL (CP)—The fate of Ontario Rugby Football Union's bid to return as a regular competitor for the Grey Cup, made the two football prize, may be in the hands of a little-known amateur group and the single vote of a student in the affairs of the Indian Rugby Union.

The executive of football's governing body meets here tonight to the annual CRU convention at Saturday. Most of the delegates are expected to centre on the CRU's status in Grey Cup.

Neither the Big Four nor the other Intercollegiate Football Union, Canada's two major pro leagues, wants to have to play CRU teams. The two leagues tried the vote—three each—on a total voting strength of 10 in CRU. The CRU has two sides and the Senior Intercollegiate Football Union one each. A majority victory—even victory is necessary to have the CRU in the hands of the amateur CRU.

CRU KEEPS MEN

Officials of the CRU aren't saying a word about how they will vote. The only statement was that the CRU has "definite ideas" and has "outlined its approach."

Although the CRU passed up its right to challenge for the cup last two seasons it wants to re-enter the playoffs next fall. Once a season in Canadian football its teams don't win the cup since the war years.

In 1953, it was decided by CRU officials that the Big Four and Western League would play off for the CRU championship in a semi-final at alternate years. Winnipeg Blue Bombers defeated the Ontario Huron 24-14 in 1953 and the CRU asked for the semi-final game in 1954, when Edmonton Eskimos beat the Westerns 34-14. The game was dropped.

DROPPED BY AGREEMENT

Then, by agreement with the CRU, the playoffs was dropped. If it were reinstated under the CRU system the next semi-final would again be in the West.

The two major pro leagues have two main objections to the semi-final with the CRU. They agree that their teams risk injury playing against inferior teams which have no chance of winning. And the games don't draw customers.

In the event of a vote which would occur if either the Intercollegiate League or the CRU withdrew — the deciding ballot would be cast by the president of the CRU, Jim McCaffrey of O'Leary.

WOMAN BREAKS CRU

Leo Dandurand, president of the Montreal Alouettes, said the two major leagues don't want to put the CRU out of business.

"What is aimed at is an amiable arrangement that will eliminate the CRU Grey Cup challenge until some future date, but at the same time provide professional patronage to take care of an important developing ground for major competition."

The CRU also will discuss the annual Eastern Shasters game, held the last two years following the Grey Cup game. There is a move among some delegates to have the game played before the season opens.

Most of the discussion of rules will be aimed at clarifying existing regulations.

Can Bournemouth Upset Powerful Manchester U?

BY ED SIMON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP) — It's only a quarter-final match. But to many soccer fans anything that happens after Saturday's Football Association Cup battle between Manchester United and Bournemouth is bound to be an anticlimax.

On one side you have United, first division champions, virtually certain of their second-straight title and bidding for an unprecedented triple crown with the European championship as well as the cup within their reach.

Their opponents are an little third-division side with little to boast of, a mere $40,000 bank overdraft and a miserable record in the league. A follow-up string of home victories.

But in the knockout cup matches, Bournemouth have upset Wolverhampton, Walsley, and three-placed team in the first division and Tottenham Hotspur, 14-the runners-up. Manchester United is next on the list.

Financially, odd-makers continue to quote United as cup favorites at 3 to 4 and see Bournemouth as 20-to-1 outsiders. But a few of the experts are beginning to wonder.

Manchester will have to do without Tommy Taylor, probably England's outstanding centre forward, who has a fracture of the left ankle and the left arm.

Even if Wood Jones Taylor on the sidelines Saturday, it would appear logical that a team composed of such members of "the best competitive side in Europe" should be able to handle their upset opposition.

Bantams, Midgets, Juveniles Ousted From OMHA Playdowns by Kingston

By GARRY ALEXANDER

Bellefleur bantams, midgets and juveniles bowed out of OMHA action for the 1937 season at Memorial Arena last night when they dropped their triple header to the Kingston Clinics.

Kingston bantams won last night's game 3-0 and took the home-and-home, goal-to-count series 10-3, the midgets took a 2-2 victory and wound up with a 1-2-3 while the juveniles blanked Bellefleur 8-0 and 23-0 on the round.

Winners of the similar Peterborough-Oshawa series will battle with the Kingston teams in the second round.

None of the trouble, predicted by the Kingston press, radio and TV, developed either on or off the ice. The boys stuck strictly to hockey.

BANTAM

The Bellefleur club could not get untraced until the third period as Kingston took a 1-0 lead in the first and made it 3-0 in the second. The home's outscored Kingston 3-2 in the third but too late to tie.

Huotier Poirer scored two of the Bellefleur goals, the first on a pass from Ted Hook at 35 seconds of the first session and the other at 13:00, a solo effort. Doug Dufour scored Huotier's third goal at 19:00, a solo effort.

Frank Jankin, captain of the Bellefleur team, with a goal and two assists, while O'Donnell had two goals and one assist. Wayne and Byron also scored with Biles, Vince and Duff each drawing one assist.

Kingston drew four of the seven penalties assessed by referees Don Dolan and Bill Hurst. Two majors were given to Ted Hook of Bellefleur and Bob Anderson of Kingston when they had a brief scuffle, the only thing near a fight in the entire three games.

Both Casey Sodin in the Bellefleur nets and Tom Mercer at the other end played outstanding games with Sodin's fine play keeping the score down during the first two periods.

LINEUPS
Kingston: Mercer, Kane, Biles, Babin, Wray, Anderson, McGinnis, Del, Byron, Carter, Bon-Harmon, O'Donnell, Vince Jankin.
Bellefleur: Casey Sodin, Paul

Kahn, Ted Hook, Robert Poirer, Bob Dufour, Jim Macdonald, Doug Duff, Dale Archer, Bill, John Lewis, L. Wood, John Graham, Norm Boulter, Geoffrey.

MIDGET

Kingston broke up the best game of the night with four goals in the third period after having narrow 1-0 and 2-1 margins by periods. They settled four between the eighth and fifteen minute marks of the third and Bellefleur came back with one in the fifth session of its game.

But Ayerworth fired the only goal of the first period at 1:30 and the first goal fought hard and pressed for minutes on end but failed to score when the visitors were two men short.

Fast and to end play continued in the second as George Eisher took a pass from Gary Cooper and blanked the die home for a 1-0 score at 7:23. A little more than a minute later Kingston got back the lead when Rex McWhelland scored on Doug Sodin's pass. McWhelland, Sodin, McWhelland again and Faulkner scored in that order in the third.

Gray Gory got one back at 19:45 when he skated the goalie and flipped home the rubber. Gory had pulled the same play minutes earlier only to bounce the puck off the goal.

Rex McWhelland and Doug Sodin shared the starting role for Kingston, while five points, three goals and two assists while Sodin scored four and assisted on four. But Ayerworth earned one and one. Faulkner a goal, Curran and O'Donnell assisted.

Bill Mossan, Bellefleur goalie, featured a statue out over his legs in the second period but Kingston won and played a fine game. The winners drew eight of the nine penalties called in this contest.

LINEUPS
Kingston: Cain, M. Decker, Jar, Jankin, Sodin, Mark, McWhelland, Ayerworth, Faulkner, Sodin, Curran, D. O'Donnell, Biles, and Bill, Anny.
Bellefleur: Bill Mossan, Barry Titterton, Pat Amelino, Ted Bennett, Wayne Walter, Mo Hunter, Earl Macdonald, John Brennan, Bertie Woulter, Bucky Eisher, Jim Hook, Gary Cooper, Larry Mercer.

JUVENILE

Bellefleur: Bill Mossan, Barry Titterton, Pat Amelino, Ted Bennett, Wayne Walter, Mo Hunter, Earl Macdonald, John Brennan, Bertie Woulter, Bucky Eisher, Jim Hook, Gary Cooper, Larry Mercer.

JUVENILE

Kingston took a 4-0 lead in the first, added one in the second and finished with a trio in the third. The lack of experience in actual game play was simply too much of a handicap for the Bellefleur club to overcome.

Bob Chamberlain spearheaded the winner's attack with a terrific six-point performance. He scored three goals and assisted on three more. Clifford also netted a trio.

Only five minor penalties were given in this, compared to 10 in the Saturday's juvenile fixture. Bellefleur drew three last night one scored a goal in the third.

LINEUPS
Kingston: Nichols, Clurey, H. Decker, Pitts, Dunlop, J. H. Clifford, Chamberlain, Ayerworth, Papp, Sodin, Johnson, Holland, Costello.
Bellefleur: Larry Langdon, J. H. Stafford, Larry Gory, Larry Hill, Bruce Kennedy, John Hargrave, John Caddick, Jack O'Neil, Ralph Hase, Dale Archer, Bob Young, Bob Laidford.

Moves to Exempt Major Sports from Anti-Trust Laws

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Owen Harris (Dem. Ark.) of the House of Representatives commerce committee has introduced a bill to exempt professional baseball, football, basketball and hockey from federal anti-trust laws.

The expressed purpose of the legislation is to make it "clear to the courts that congress does not intend the conduct of these major sports to be subject to the anti-trust laws of this country."

Harris' bill followed Monday's U.S. Supreme Court ruling that professional baseball—unlike professional basketball—is subject to the anti-trust laws.
